Clemenceau Leaves for New England States as Remarks Draw Fire

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Georges Clemenceau, France's war premier, was attacked today on the floor of the senate for speeches in the United States.

Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, former chairman of the foreign relations committee, formally replied to the Tiger's attack on this country's post-war policy.

"If France had to send an envoy to the United States to enlist American sympathy, she could have chosen a man more appropriate than Clemenceau," said Hitchcock.

"While Clemenceau is not known as a militarist such as Poincare and others, he has been recognized as representing an extremely harsh policy toward Germany."

"And I so deprecate the character of this messenger from France, and yet Clemenceau, violent as he was, is mild compared to the present government of France."

Criticism of Clemenceau's policy of his government, which must be altered if there is to be tranquility in Europe."

Hitchcock said he was forced to agree with Clemenceau that the United States quit European affairs too soon.

Senator Borah interrupted to declare that Clemenceau's ideas about what the United States would be expected to do in European matters appeared to be very nebulous, adding that somebody ought to make that clear.

Borah also asked whether the United States could co-operate with France so long as the present policy of that government holds.

"No, we could not," said Hitchcock.

"Please tell us when the French policy has been any different than it is now," said Borah.

Raps German Policy
Hitchcock continued that, as Clemenceau in voicing his criticism of American policy, had invited counter criticism, his New York speech offered a good opportunity for voicing "some American criticism of the French attitude toward Germany."

Rebellion and insurrection in Germany are certain this winter unless conditions are improved. Hitchcock asserted in commenting on Clemenceau's utterances on reparations. Germany is paying all she can and the French demands are "uttermost nonsense," Hitchcock held.

France's attitude is "driving Germany into the hands of the monarchists or the Bolsheviks," he declared.

"The French insistence on these huge reparations is evidence to me that France does not desire peace," Hitchcock asserted.

Black Army on Rhine
Maintenance of black French troops on the Rhine is another evidence that France is not sincerely desirous of amity with the Germans, he said, because the French government knows that this is a provocation measure.

Senator Spencer, Missouri, disputed Hitchcock's assertions regarding black troops, declaring these are not negroes, but Arabs, and that their conduct is above reproach as a general thing.

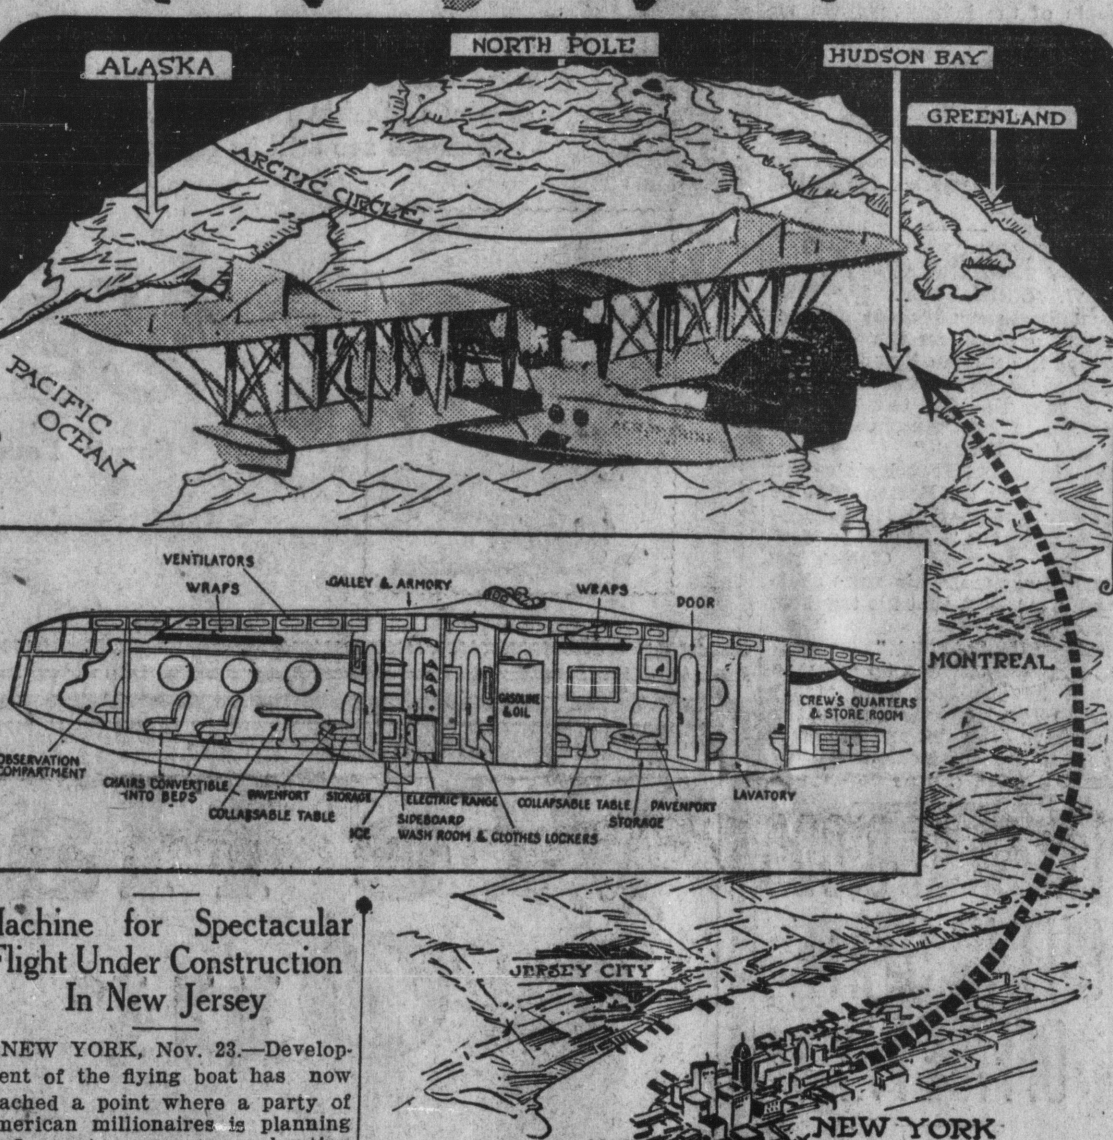

"It can't be denied," said Hitchcock, "that black troops are there and the reason for keeping them there has never been explained. It raises a strong doubt when Clemenceau says France desires peace with Germany."

Means Armed Peace
"Perhaps you don't understand what Clemenceau means by peace," suggested Borah.

"He apparently means an armed peace," Hitchcock replied.

Millionaires Plan De Luxe Plane Trip Into Arctic Region

Machine for Spectacular Flight Under Construction In New Jersey

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Development of the flying boat has now reached a point where a party of American millionaires is planning to fly next summer on a hunting and exploring trip to the arctic circle. It will be a prospecting trip de luxe.

Mysterious wildernesses heretofore penetrated only by hardy adventurers will be brought within three days of New York. Financiers will be able personally to investigate the fabulous stories of minerals, timber, and fur brought back from the arctic circle by explorers.

Six Sign For Trip
Sounds like a dream, but—Four prominent Detroiters and two of New York's leaders in commercial aviation are already booked for the first flight, which will be operated by Aeromarine Airways, Inc. A specially constructed seaplane to carry ten passengers and a crew of three is now building in Keyport, N. J. Arrangements for gasoline and other supplies have been made with the Hudson Bay company.

After operating passenger-carrying aircraft for three years and having flown over one million passenger miles without a serious mishap, we concluded that properly regulated flying would enable us to fly to the Hudson Bay territory in safety," said Charles F. Redden, president of Aeromarine Airways.

"Due to the numerous large lakes and rivers throughout Canada we will have continuous opportunity for landing from New York to the northwest territory. Inasmuch as our boats fly only over water this chain of lakes and rivers removed the first and only serious obstacle to such a flight."

So little is known of this part of the Hudson Bay region that no accurate itinerary is to be scheduled. The plane will leave New York about July 1, go to Montreal by way of the Hudson river, jump over inland lakes and rivers to Moose Factory on James Bay, and then north for hundreds of miles by easy stages up Hudson Bay. The trip will take two or three weeks.

The plane now building is similar to those on the aeromarine lines in Florida, New York, and Lake Erie, except that it will be equipped for sleeping and electric cooking.

66 MOTORISTS'S JAILED
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Sixty-six motorists today were serving jail sentences for speeding. Judge Chambers' sentencing nine more today brought the total to that figure for the past four days.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Harding sent to the senate today the nomination of Cornelius Van Hengert of California, for secretary of embassy, class two.

MINE BLAST DEAD TOTAL 85

BLAZE TAKES HEAVY TOLL OF LIVES

Capacity of Hospitals Taxed In Caring for Injured Workers

(United Press Leased Wire)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 23.—Eighty-five miners lost their lives in the explosion in the Dolomite mine late yesterday, officials of the Woodward Iron company announced today.

The victims included twenty-two whites. Seventy-five workers were wounded; forty seriously.

The death toll was expected to be swelled to one hundred by deaths of some of the seventy-five workers who lie in hospital severely injured or burned.

The other miners entombed by the explosion were huddled together safely when found by rescue squads.

Crowds of relatives and friends jammed about the mine mouth because so frantic and hysterical as bodies were brought to the surface and stacked in heaps awaiting undertakers that militia was called to control the situation.

The first load of dead was brought to the surface at 3 o'clock last night. Screaming women and children stood at the flaming entrance of the long shaft watching in agony as load after load of dead were stacked on the cold ground.

The first of the injured entombed men—125 blackened workers—came out of the shaft immediately after the blast, and within two hours many others with terrified faces, appeared. After that a steady stream of uninjured and injured and dead was brought out.

The fact that the fan system was not destroyed probably saved many lives, as it was possible to constantly pump fresh air into the mine.

The breaking loose of three cars on the tippie caused the explosion. The cars raced back into the mine and broke electric light wires, causing sparks to fly, which set off the explosion. A tremendous explosion swept the first level, about 1300 feet long, carrying with it a rush of air, the concussion following.

A sheet of flame rolled along the level to the mouth of the mine and a great tongue of fire leaped to the tippie, three hundred feet from the mouth of the mine.

NEW LEADER LOOMS FOR DEMOCRATS

Simmons, North Carolina, Seen As Successor to Underwood On Floor of Senate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Senate Democrats, in caucus today virtually chose Senator Simmons, North Carolina, as their leader to succeed Senator Oscar Underwood, Alabama.

Though the question of leadership was not directly before the caucus, the action taken put upon Simmons' shoulders the mantle of leadership for this session, at least, and strengthened his already strong claims to formal election to the place in the next congress.

Senator Underwood, who on election night, announced he would not be a candidate to succeed himself as leader when his present term expires on March 4, will continue as the nominal party head, but his physical condition will not permit him to take active leadership.

ARIZONANS DEFEAT BIG HIGHWAY BOND

PHOENIX, Nov. 23.—There now is no longer doubt of the failure of the initiated proposition to bond the state for $2,500,000 for the building of a paved highway from near Phoenix to the Colorado river opposite Blythe. At first thought carried by the heavy votes of Maricopa and other Central Arizona counties, late returns from both north and south show an adverse majority of at least 1000.

3 NEAR DEATH
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Three persons miraculously escaped death today when the car in which they were riding plunged over a high cliff in Elysian Park. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grennan and R. W. Gallegos who were in the car were brought to the emergency hospital severely injured, but all will recover, it was said.

SUSPECT BREAKS JAIL
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—E. E. Thompson, arrested at Owensmouth, Mo., for assisting the attempted escape of Herbert Wilson from the county jail here last month, broke jail in the Missouri town last night, according to reports to police here.

Suspect Strike Plot Responsible for Death of Ohio Family

LANCASTER, Ohio, Nov. 23.—Arrests in the Lancaster poisoning, which yesterday snuffed out the lives of a family of six, will follow as soon as reports from Columbus say that arsenic has been found in the stomachs of Mr. and Mrs. Irvine E. Henderson, prosecutor Charles Radcliffe declared today.

The internal organs of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson were taken to Columbus for analysis last night.

Dr. R. E. Monahan, Henderson family physician, said Henderson had on several occasions, while suffering from what the physician believed to be slow poisoning, told him he feared enemies who resented his employment as a strikebreaker at the Pennsylvania railroad shops were trying to "get" him.

NAMES MINN. DEMOCRAT TO COURT PLACE

Pierce Butler, Regent of University of Minnesota, Nominated As Associate Justice.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Pierce Butler, of St. Paul, was nominated by President Harding today to be an associate justice of the United States supreme court.

Butler is a Democrat. He is now regent of the University of Minnesota to which he was appointed by Governor John J. Johnson, a long time intimate friend.

Butler was appointed special counsel for the government in 1910 in the prosecution of the Chicago meat packers, under indictment for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

He was born in Dakota county, Minn., in 1866, was educated in the public schools and at Carleton college, Northfield, Minn.

In furtherance of its plans to girdle Southern California with a chain of oil and gas distributing stations, and putting into effect the first of a series of development moves that will mean the expenditure of millions of dollars, the Shell Oil company will, within the next thirty or forty days, establish in Santa Ana one of the most modern plants of the kind in the state, it was learned here today.

This plant, according to J. C. Wheeler, division manager of the Shell Oil company, with headquarters in Los Angeles, will be located on the Santa Fe right of way and will employ between twenty and twenty-five men.

Secured Site Here
Investigation here disclosed the fact that representatives of the oil company have been negotiating with Santa Fe officials for several weeks with a view to securing a location. Well-informed observers said today that the southeast corner of Fruit and Santiago streets, the former location of the Union Oil company's plant, has been virtually decided upon as the location for the company's huge distributing plant.

"The Shell Oil company," said Wheeler, in discussing the company's plans, "has made final preparations for great expansion in Southern California, and this means that we will establish in Santa Ana one of the finest plants of the kind in the state."

"We hope to be able to begin actual construction of the plant within thirty days. This plant, similar to those we will establish in San Bernardino, Riverside, San Diego, Long Beach Ventura and other centers, will serve a wide field."

"Points to be served by the Santa Ana distributing unit will include Anaheim, Fullerton, Huntington Beach, Newport Beach, Orange, Laguna Beach, San Juan Capistrano and many other cities adjacent to Santa Ana."

"The Santa Ana station will be division headquarters for the Orange county unit, with offices, tanks, warehouses, garages and other necessary facilities. It will have a storage capacity of something like 100,000 gallons and will be thoroughly modern in every particular."

"It will be the purpose of the Shell Oil company, in thus carrying out far-reaching development plans in Orange county and Southern California, to further its plan to girdle the state with a chain of oil and gas distributing stations that means the expenditure of

ILLNESS OF JUDGE HALTS HAMMER CASE
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Motion for a new trial for Clara Phillips, convicted of beating Alberta Meadows to death with a hammer, was today postponed until Friday. The delay was ordered by Judge Willis, sitting for Judge Houser, who has been taken ill.

If Judge Houser does not recover within two weeks Judge Willis will hear the arguments, and if the new trial is denied, will pronounce sentence of from ten years to life imprisonment as the penalty for the second degree murder conviction at the trial just completed.

BANDITS WOUND THREE
GALLATIN, Mo., Nov. 23.—The mayor, town marshal and hotel keeper were wounded and the First National Bank destroyed when bandits raided this town early today. The bandits escaped with $4,000 after cutting lines of communication.

SEEK SETTLEMENT ON COLO. RIVER TREATY
SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 23.—Deliberations in executive session were resumed here today by the Colorado river commission in an effort to finally agree upon terms of a treaty between the government and seven southwestern states for allocation of the waters of the Colorado river.

There were indications that all differences would be ironed out at today's session and an agreement reached by tonight. However, no statement as to the progress made by the commissioners was given out.

MAN SHOTS SELF
SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—D. V. Rains is dying at the county hospital here. He shot himself through the head, apparently, police claim, because of trouble with a woman supposed to be Mrs. Rebecca Angerle.

PRE-WAR POMP MARKS PARLIAMENT OPENING
LONDON, Nov. 23.—King George formally opened the fourth parliament of his reign with a speech from the throne in the House of Lords.

All the pomp and ceremony of pre-war days was observed as the king, accompanied by Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York, read his address, while, lined up at the bar of the house were 150 labor members of Commons, prominent among the newly elected parliament.

To give effect to the Irish Free State constitution bill before December 6, by which date it must, under the treaty, become law, was the main purpose for which parliament was summoned.

MITCHELL PRESIDES OVER OAKLAND MEET

"Highly instructive," was the word sent by R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent, from the state convention now in session, of school superintendents at Oakland, to the members of his office here today. Superintendent Mitchell said he was highly pleased with the work being done at Oakland, and added that he was chairman of the Tuesday session of the convention.

75 MORE TICKETS TO GRIDIRON CONTEST TO BE ON SALE TOMORROW

Seventy-five additional tickets to the football game to be played at Fullerton Tuesday by the teams of the Santa Ana and Fullerton high schools, will be placed on sale to the public at Victor Walker's sporting goods store here at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow, it was announced at the high school this afternoon. These tickets are a part of the quota allotted to Santa Ana, it was said.

FORMER DEPUTY GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

A. S. Hinkle, former deputy sheriff, is under a suspended sentence of six months, imposed in Long Beach police court several weeks ago when he retracted a plea of not guilty to charges of disturbing the peace, it became known today when the time for trial, set shortly after his arrest, arrived.

Hinkle was arrested by Long Beach motorcycle officers after, it was alleged, he had become involved in an alleged brawl in a Long Beach cafe. He at first entered pleas of not guilty to charges of drunkenness and disturbing the peace, and had demanded a jury trial. The trial date was set for November 23, but later he changed his plea and was fined $25 on the drunkenness charge.

S. A. LIONS BOOST REALTY CONCLAVE

The Lions' club of Santa Ana will feature its next meeting as "real estate week" in compliment to Santa Ana realtors who at that time will be entertaining hundreds of realtors from all parts of the state in convention here.

The next meeting will be two weeks from today, the session next week being omitted because it falls on Thanksgiving day. The next session falls on December 7, the opening day of the real estate convention.

At today's meeting at St. Ann's Inn at noon, the "sympathy" orchestra of the Elks' lodge entertained with a number of selections, with D. Z. Smith rendering two vocal selections.

The orchestra members, who were guests of the club, included Dr. D. E. Brockett, Clayton Kaufman, Charles Paddock, Fred Chapman, Joe Kozina and W. R. Gordon. Claude Killen was chairman of the program committee, other members of which were W. B. Leecraft and Harry Hanson.

George H. Rice, representing the Better American federation, was the speaker. He pronounced the purpose of his organization to be the promotion of a finer degree of citizenship, and stated that there are 112 publications in the United States today which are supporting men who are attempting to tear down the government.

He made a stirring and eloquent appeal for support of the principles upon which this government is founded.

FRENCH RELEASED AS UNDER SHERIFF

Because Under Sheriff E. E. French has been in ill health recently, and desired to be relieved of his duties, Sheriff C. E. Jackson today released him from his staff and thereby complied with the provisions of a recent ruling by the state supreme court, reducing the number of deputies that county officers may employ. Under this ruling Jackson was compelled to release one deputy. Had French's health permitted him to continue at his duties, Deputy Sheriff Roy Ballard would have been the one to be released, inasmuch as Ballard was deputized after French.

BURKE TO ADDRESS LEGION MEN HERE

United States District Attorney Joe Burke will be the principal speaker at an important meeting of Santa Ana Post No. 121, American Legion, tonight, it was announced here today. Initiation of fifteen new members of the post was expected to be a feature of the meeting, which will be confined to Legion members.

"Whether we will spend $2,000,000 or $10,000,000 I am not prepared to say, but our development will be rapid and comprehensive. We consider Orange county one of the best units in this huge chain and will make every effort to develop that territory to the fullest extent. At Wilmington, we will build one of the most modern and complete refineries in the West."

Wheeler said that an experienced oil man probably will be sent to Santa Ana to take charge of the company's distributing unit here. It was probable, he said, that a fleet of from six to twelve huge tank-trucks will be used in distribution here.

It was reported the company will have a west frontage of 100 feet on the Santa Fe right of way, with a depth of 300 feet or more.

let commemorating signing of the armistice on which "the spirit of hate was kept alive" was another sample of the belligerent and unforgetting attitude of France, Hitchcock said.

"Argentine and Chile didn't do that when they made peace after their wars," said Hitchcock.

"They desire real peace; therefore, they erected a figure of the Christ to commemorate the end of their conflicts."

CLEMENCEAU OFF ON TOUR OF NEW ENGLAND STATES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—With United States senators denouncing him and a storm on the verge of breaking in congress because of his remarks, Georges Clemenceau invaded New England today on his campaign to win "America's heart and soul for France."

The 81-year-old French statesman left New York for Boston with no ceremony whatever. Newspaper men made up the "seeing off party." To the reporters Clemenceau remarked excitedly, his voice shaking with emotion, that his trip here was:

"Splendid! Splendid!"

The Frenchman was up early, refreshed by the first good night's sleep he has had since he landed. He assisted his valet and secretary in getting the suitcases packed, wearing a skull cap as he worked.

PLANS $30,000 CUT IN STATE OFFICE PAY

(United Press Leased Wire)

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—A plan for cuts of fifty per cent and more in the salaries of nine appointive state officers now drawing from $5,000 to $10,000 yearly is being considered by Governor-elect Friend Richardson as the first step in his economy program, it was learned today. The plan was submitted to Richardson by aides who are helping him draw up his budget.

The proposed reductions are: Superintendent of banks from $10,000 to $5,000; manager state reclamation board from $10,000 to $5,000; manager compensation in insurance from $10,000 to $4,000; director department of public works, $10,000 to $5,000; attorney banking department, $6,000 to $4,000; insurance commissioner, $6,000 to $4,000; warden San Quentin prison, $6,000 to $4,000; real estate commissioner, $5,000 to $3,000; adjutant general, $5,000 to $3,000.

The men affected are Jonathan Dodge, Melville Dozier, C. W. Fellows, A. B. Fletcher, B. M. Oliver, Alexander McCabe, James A. Johnston, Edwin T. Kaiser and J. J. Borree.

Fletcher, of the public works department, has already announced his resignation, and other resignations are expected.

SEVENTEEN YEARS CONDUCTOR, SHIFTS TO PULPIT FIELD

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 23.—Seventeen years a street car conductor and motorman, Carl B. Johnson, Clarksburg, became a clergyman recently.

The veteran employee of the Monongahela Power company turned in the controller for his depot car and left for Parsons, with his family, to become pastor of the Methodist Protestant church.

A decade ago Johnson was asked to give a little talk at a gathering of employees in a car barn. He told of every-day experiences and added a few fragments from the Bible to draw comparisons. The address appealed to the employees and Johnson spoke regularly after that. His subject invariably was "Human Nature."

Six months ago Johnson was invited to speak from a Clarksburg pulpit. The consequence of his sermon was a series of invitations from other churches. An opportunity to enter the ministry followed.

JAPS READY TO QUIT SHANTUNG TERRITORY

PEKING, China, Nov. 23.—China

and Japan have reached an agreement through the joint Shantung commission under which control of the Shantung peninsula, subject to much controversy, will be resumed by China.

The agreement now is being set down in the form of a treaty. Under the terms of the treaty, China will take over civil control of Tsing Tao December 2. China will assume a debt of approximately forty million yen including the debts of the Shantung railroad.

the high school auditorium and all of the periods will be shortened to allow the early closing of school.

The city of Brea has applied to the railroad commission for permission to open North Orange avenue across the right of way of the Pacific Electric company. It was learned here today.

Charles D. Boynton, and Boynton and Spencer, have applied to the railroad commission for permission to transfer an automobile freight business between San Diego and Los Angeles to the Boulevard Express, Inc. according to word received here today. The consideration of the assets of the business is $62,200 par value of the stock of the corporation.

Fred Harrison and R. C. Hunter, from the general offices of the Santa Fe, were visiting F. T.
Smith, local agent, today. Smith has just returned from the East, whither he accompanied the body of his father, who died recently.

E. A. Crouch, lunchroom owner in Los Angeles, was at a Los Angeles hospital today for treatment for a gunshot wound received accidentally while he was hunting on the Westminister Gun club grounds near Huntington Beach.
After killing a duck the hunter placed his gun on the ground to go after the bird and the firearm was accidentally discharged. The charge of shot entered his right leg near the knee.

Funeral services for Mrs. Olga Boege, pioneer of Orange county who died in Los Angeles as a result of injuries received there when she was struck by a truck, were held from the Union funeral parlors in Los Angeles today. Mrs. Boege, who resided in Anaheim for many years, is survived by ten children.
The body was cremated and the ashes will be deposited in the family vault in the Anaheim cemetery.

Friends of Mrs. F. B. Allen, who formerly lived in Santa Ana, were saddened today when it was learned that she died Tuesday at her home at Belvedere Gardens, Los Angeles, of pneumonia. Her husband notified friends here that the funeral would be held at 2 p.
m. tomorrow at the Community church, near Belvedere Gardens.
Mrs. Allen was a member of the Order of Eastern Star and of the First Christian church here.

T. J. Cannon, of the J. T. Cannon Drilling and Supply company, was here today consulting with officials of the Tepahol Oil company with reference to beginning operations on the company's well on the Robinson ranch in Trabuco canyon. It is expected that the drilling company will get under operation on the well about January 1. It will put in rotary equipment and test the Trabuco district as to oil possibilities.

Mrs. J. T. Tidball of this city today was en route here from Brookings, S. D., where she has been visiting her son, Clyde, following her return from Geneva, Switzerland, where she visited for six months with another son, Charles T. Tidball, formerly of Santa Ana, and his wife and baby. Mrs.
J. T. Tidball informed relatives that she would arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow or Saturday.

Plans for holding a jubilee in Santa Ana in celebration of the carrying of the Wright enforcement act, have been abandoned, according to A. H. Theal, chairman of the city campaign in behalf of the act.

"Service" was the theme of the meeting last night of the Junior College Y. M. C. A. club, recently organized with William Adamson as president. The meeting was held in the high school room of Prof.
E. J. Hummel, with fifteen of the twenty-eight members present. D.
K. Hammond, principal of the high school, and Professor Hummel pledged their support to the club in making it a success.

Slight damage resulted when E.
T. Mater backed his car from the curb into a machine driven by Mrs.
O. B. Davey, according to a report which was made by Mrs. Davey and which was on file at police headquarters today. Mrs. Davey drove around the block, she said, but when she returned, the Mater car was gone.

Ebell Club

Anticipation of the annual Founders' day program of Ebell society to be presented at the Temple theater Monday afternoon and evening, November 27, were considerably increased today on the part of Ebell members and friends when it was announced that artists to appear on the evening program would include Ollie Mae Enlow Matthews, violinist, Miss Louise Montgomery and Leon Eckles, vocalists.
It is hoped that all Ebell members realize that attendance is not to be confined to membership alone but that husbands and friends are cordially urged to help swell the crowds at the performances and thus help swell the funds of the clubhouse building project.

HUNTINGTON SCOUTS
FUND REACHES $670

Boy Scouts of Huntington Beach have added $215 to the fund being raised by popular subscription for local and county Boy Scout work, Roland E. Dye, scout executive, announced today. The fund now totals $670, he said.

BOOSTER TALKS
WILL FEATURE
AIR BILLS

Tonight and each Monday and Thursday night for the next few weeks a fifteen-minute period of KFAW's broadcasting hour will be devoted to a talk by prominent Orange county citizens, dealing with the development of Orange county, industrially and otherwise, with real estate values and the achievement of Orange county organizations.

The first of this series of talks will be delivered tonight by Freeman H. Bloodgood, realtor.

The concert features on the air tonight will be presented by Elmer Heldt, popular Santa Ana tenor, and Mrs. G. J. Daley, soprano. The piano accompaniment will be played by Miss Ruth Armstrong.

SEEKS TO ADMINISTER
LANDS WORTH $37,000

George W. Etchison today filed a petition in superior court here to be named administrator of the estate of the late Perry Green Etchison. The estate, which consists largely of real property, was valued at $37,500, it was indicated.

CONCRETE LUMBER MAN
DEFENDANT IN SUIT

S. W. Allen, founder of the Orange County Concrete Lumber company, and eleven persons or corporations having previous liens on the firm's property, were made defendants in a suit for $962.84, brought in superior court here by the Young Sash and Door company, Anaheim.

The plaintiffs seek to recover for materials alleged to have been delivered to the defendant, and for which no payment was received.

The other defendants were J. H.
Measam, S. W. Miller, Dorie Etchinger, R. L. Lane, the An-aheim National bank, George A.
Hess, R. C. Vincent, the Hammond Lumber company, Edward Kogler, J. H. Daugherty and the Los Angeles National bank.

The Laguna Beach organization is doing so much to spread the fame of Orange county abroad," declared Mr. Gustlin, "it seems to me its probation deserve the expressed approbation of the entire county. We are very proud indeed to have had the honor of an invitation to this,
their first reception of such a nature and hope a large percentage of our members may be present to enjoy the affair."

As fellow guests of the Music association and the Ebell members will be their respective wives, husbands and escorts.

Woman's Club

Mrs. Martha Richey extended a pleasant hospitality to the members of the Santa Ana Woman's club and a few guests Tuesday at her beautiful home on East McFadden street. The spacious living room was decked with wreaths and clusters of California holly and autumn blossoms while in the cozy nooks adjoining, superb pink roses in bud vases added to the artistry of the effect.

The usual opening exercises followed the call of the meeting to order by the president, Dr. Evaxiene Peo. Comprehensive and interesting reports of the district convention of Federated Women's clubs held recently in San Diego were given by Mrs. C. F. Crose and Mrs. J. H. Northrup. The society passed a resolution authorizing the corresponding secretary to send to Congressman Phil D. Swing a letter of protest on the Belson bill which deals with taking lands away from the Indians.

The program in charge of Mrs.
Richey, Mrs. Marian Brett and Mrs.
Asa Vandermaast was on "The Bible, a Religious, Literary and Scientific Book" and the theme was ably handled by Dr. Brett. Roll call carried the Biblical idea further as each member responded with a Bible verse, and the program ended with the Twenty-third Psalm repeated in unison.

Following the adjournment of the business meeting, Mrs. Richey, assisted by her daughters, Miss Mattie Richey and Mrs. Ransom Reid, served delicious sandwiches, assorted cakes, chocolate creams and tea to the forty members and guests present.

The next meeting of the club will be December 5, with Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany, 1316 Spurgeon street.

Plan Reception
For Pastor

Plans are being completed for a reception to the Rev. Moffitt Rhodes, new pastor of Spurgeon Memorial church to be held in the church parlors tomorrow night, November 24.

Through numerous wanings and ravings, the game of croquet is traceable back to the ancient Gauls.

FAIRVIEW FARMS FOLK
TO TALK OIL LEASES

Fairview Farms property owners, who are associating for mutual protection in leasing their lands to oil companies, will meet Saturday night at the community church at Costa Mesa, W. W. Middleton announced today. He said the meeting originally had been scheduled for his home but due to the increase in expected attendance the church was chosen.

W. H. Cotton, Los Angeles financier, who is interested in Fairview property, will be present. Middleton said. Report also will be made on the proposed lease form prepared by A. W. Rusan, Santa Ana attorney, it was expected.

DAIRYMEN INTERESTED IN LIVESTOCK MEET

Many Orange county dairymen plan to attend the luncheon of the Southern California Purebred Livestock association Saturday at Hotel Clark, Los Angeles, W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor here, said today. Cory said:

"The association's aim is to increase livestock and dairy production in Southern California. Three-quarters of the meat consumed in this territory today is brought in from the outside. The same thing applies to dairy products.

"With the constantly growing population this lack of livestock and dairy produce takes on added importance.

"One point probably to be emphasized at the luncheon is the plan to encourage orchardists to put in a side line of dairy stock."

HUNTINGTON BEACH
LIONS TO HEAR ROTH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 23.
—There was a lively meeting of the Lions club yesterday noon at Huntington Inn. President Ed Manning started the meat eaters going when he called for the report of the civic committee, of which Sam Bowen is chairman. If any of the guests had an idea that the Lions were not backing the city trustees in their efforts to put through a big program of street building and lighting they surely were enlightened.

The Boy Scout committee, of which R. J. Prescott is chairman, reported that the club went over the top in raising its quota.

The Lions will go to Long Beach
some evening next week to hear Dave Roth, the famous memory trainer, give one of his lectures.

The committee of the day, Ernie Koppl and William H. Gallienne, took charge of the Lions at this point and put on a program that will long be remembered.

Mrs. Hazel Hummel, of Santa Ana, captivated the den with her sweet soprano voice and splendid singing. Mrs. Ethel Thompson accompanied.

Guests of the club were: Rev.
H. O. Anderson, J. Austin Brill-hart, Rowland E. Dye, W. R. Edwards, J. A. Wood, Luther Solt, and Mrs. E. A. Maher.

PORT, PLANS
YEARLY MEET

Endorsing the Newport harbor project, a resolution was adopted by the executive committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, P. S. Lucas, secretary of the association, said today.

The resolution declared that the association considers the harbor project "highly important" to the commercial and industrial development of Santa Ana and Orange county.

The resolution was adopted at a special meeting called late yesterday to discuss plans for the annual meeting, election of officers and banquet which it was proposed to hold Thursday, January 11. Women will be guests of the Merchants and Manufacturers' this year, it was decided, and the entertainment committee was instructed to prepare for at least 300 dinner reservations.

Musical Kindergarten To Be Opened

With the idea of laying exactly the same foundation for future musical education as the ordinary kindergarten does for a general education, Daisy Austin Marsden, head of the local branch of the Sherwood School of Music, announces a musical kindergarten to be opened in connection with the school in the Greenleaf building. Many mothers have signified their intention of sending their little people to the kindergarten and those who have not already signed up for the course have been requested to come to the studio Saturday between the hours of 1 and 5 to complete arrangements.

Children from 5 to 7 years of age will be eligible for membership and each class will have ten members, simulating the lines of the bass and treble clef. These will be taught the mechanics of music through games, songs and charts while at the same time, Miss Gladys Harris will instruct them in French so that school age will find them with an excellent foundation of French and music. Mrs. Marsden will direct the kindergarten personally.

Friendly Circle

The Friendly Circle class of the First M. E. church will hold its regular social gathering at the church tomorrow night, November 24 at 7:30. The members are requested to bring the usual refreshments.

Calumpit Camp

With Henry G. Miller, department aide of Calumpit Camp No. 26, U. S. W. V., asked to act as master of ceremonies by the senior vice commander of the organization, Charles E. Waffle, a most interesting social affair was enjoyed Tuesday night by the camp and its auxiliary and their guests, the members of the G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps.

The program opened with the presentation of a Bible to the camp by Mrs. Estelle Ludwig, president of the W. R. C., whose presentation speech was responded to by Commander Clinton Innes and H. G. Miller. Other pleasing features were a duet by the Misses Marjorie Thompson and Adele Waffle; reading by Mrs. Muriel Pope; solo by Miss Adele Waffle; reading by Mrs. Phillips; Spanish song by Miss Marjorie Thompson and reading ("The House by the Side of the Road") by Comrade Miller.

Commander Innes was presented with a cake by the auxiliary president, Mrs. Marie Mears, and Henry G. Miller as master of ceremonies, received two cakes, the presentation being made by Mrs. Sherman Glaze. Later a delicious banquet, at which 100 guests were seated, was served under the direction of Mesdames John Walker, Carrie Adams, Neeta Allen and U. S. Glaze.

Congratulations were in order over the recent appointment of Henry G. Miller as aide to the department commander, and that of Daniel R. Mears ("Big Dan" Mears) as district inspector for Orange county.

The next meeting of the camp will be at K. of P. hall on December 5, when new officers will be elected. The camp plans to adopt a "watch us grow" slogan and hopes to add materially to the membership during the coming year.

PERSONALS

Miss Vivian Newman has made reservation via Southern Pacific for Berkeley. Judge L. A. West was on his way to San Francisco today; Mrs. J. M. Bird plans a visit to Kingsville, Texas; Mrs. Sarah H. Finley has purchased a ticket to Oakland; R. P. Preston intends visiting Visalia and Miss Margaret Tedford expects to be at Palo Alto when the Big Game is staged next Saturday, all of them like Miss Newman, going on the "Espee."

Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs Jr., of East Santa Clara avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Z. Bertrand West Jr., of West Fourth street, took their departure today in the Jacobs machine for Stanford where they will attend the game later to spend a week or ten days in the north ere returning to Santa Ana. After a visit of eight months in South Dakota and Kansas, Mrs. Ida Dunphy has returned to her home here. For the present she will spend some time with Mrs. P. L. Tople.

A pleasant guest in the household of Mayor and Mrs. John G. Mitchell of 310 South Sycamore street is Mrs. E. B. Johnson of Fairmont, Minnesota, who is spending the winter in Los Angeles and who will remain in the Mitchell home for a week or two. Mrs. Johnson expects her husband, Dr. H. B. Johnson to join her for a short California visit during the course of the winter.

Mrs. Cora Cavins, 316 East Pine street, will leave tomorrow for Redondo where she is anticipating a pleasant over the week-end visit with Mrs. E. L. Chrisman, a former school friend in Indiana. William H. Overhiner, who is connected with the U. S. Coast and Geodetic survey, is visiting his parents in this city.

Mrs. M. A. Truran and three children were on their way to Newkirk, Oklahoma, via the Santa Fe railroad; Mrs. Fannie Travers booked passage to Dallas, Texas, and the "Take It From Me" company who were to make their next stand at Santa Barbara, also were Santa Fe travelers.

Enjoy Dinner Party With Foreign Consuls

A dinner and theater party in Los Angeles as the guests of Sr. Antonio Orfila, Spanish vice-consul, was a recent pleasant experience of Charles Carrillo and Charles D. Brown of this city. Among the interesting members of the party was the French consul and following the elaborately served dinner which all enjoyed, they were guests of Sr. Orfila at the Mission where all were keenly interested in the presentation of the final film directed by William Desmond Taylor.

COUNTY RAISES WALNUTS
RIVERSIDE, Nov. 23.—The county hospital property has a source of income in its walnuts, which will be sold at an anticipated total of $500, according to a decision reached by the Riverside county board of supervisors yesterday morning. W. H. Fertig, purchasing agent, was instructed to obtain prices and market the nuts after taking out those which can be used at the hospital.

Care of the Eyes

BY DR. ROY S. HORTON
OP-TOM-ETRIST

It is, therefore, found to a large extent among the older children in the schools.

4. Investigations prove that defective vision is chiefly a penalty paid by the more studious. It thus imperils the future of the brightest scholars.
How Defective Vision Arises

1. Near-sightedness, the most prevalent eye affliction, has symptoms that come in logical sequence.
2. Its beginnings, primarily, are due to congenital astigmatism, and the subsequent strain upon the eye in the effort to see.

3. It usually manifests itself seriously during school life.
4. Its development is still further encouraged by the hours of constant daily application in reading and writing at that period in life when the tissues are plastic and easily molded.

5. It is not, however, always associated with over-use of the eyes. It arises after illness, is present in illiterates, and is known to be strongly hereditary.

Some Conclusive Surveys
1. In Pennsylvania, 17.9 per cent defective vision was found among 469,199 rural school children examined.
2. Examination of 92,562 school children in Boston public schools showed 11,599, or nearly 13 per cent having poor eyesight.

3. Of 175,153 children examined in New York public schools 17,888, or about nine per cent suffered from defective vision.
4. Just 26.6 per cent of 1,625 pupils examined in Orange County, Virginia, were found with defective vision, and 5.1 per cent were very serious.

5. Of 742 children in the rural schools of Bannock County, Idaho, 29.9 per cent had defective vision.

What Every Teacher Should Know
The remedial steps most generally approved and adopted in all cities which have specific rules regarding defective vision, are as follows:

- (a) Instructions from Board of Public Health given to normal school students and teachers.
- (b) Preliminary examination by teachers of all pupils in room.
- (c) Accurate examination by eye expert.
- (d) Notice to parents that child has defective vision.
- (e) Follow-up by nurses to see that notice is complied with.
- (f) Continuous eye tests and complete record maintained for each pupil, tests to be made semi-yearly if possible.
- (g) General supervision of all known cases.
- (h) Financial aid through specific funds or local charities for parents or guardians too poor to have child's eyes given proper attention.

Betrothal
Weddings
ReceptionsThe Social Order
Theme for Lecture
Of Unusual Interest

The University Study section of Ebell society, which now numbers 75 members, met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nealley in Tustin. Because the date of the next lecture would be Dec. 27, it was decided to postpone that lecture until January 24, when J. Russell Bruff will speak on "Hereditry."

The next study meeting will be divided into two sections, the Tustin section to meet on Wednesday morning, Dec. 13, when Mrs. S. W. Stanley and Mrs. A. D.
Bishop will review the second volume of Thompson's "Outline of Science." The Santa Ana section will meet at the home of Miss Mabel McFadden on Tuesday, Dec. 12, when the same volume will be reviewed by Miss Mc-Fadden and Miss Blanche Callings.

Yesterday's lecture was given by Professor Nealley and dealt with "The Social Order and the Major Social Problems of Today."
"Existence," said Mr. Nealley,
"is divided into the social, economic, moral and spiritual orders. These orders are made out of materials we find in human existence. The improvement of the social order depends upon the intellectual human control of existence."

"The lack of intelligent, scientific control is responsible for the appalling number of homicides, suicides, deaths due to accident,
the amount of sickness, disease and crime; the over-crowded prisons and for insanity, feeble-mindedness and divorce as well as illiteracy, and for child labor and under-nourished children."

"Sociology is the analysis of the social fabric which enables the investigator to discover the causes of these evidences of inefficient and unscientific control of mankind by himself."

With the aid of an interesting series of charts, Mr. Nealley probed deeply into the social fabric of today, analyzing the causes and suggesting some possible remedies for the troubles that afflict society.

"There has been a greater change in the social body between the years 1880 and 1922 than occurred in all the years between the birth of Christ and the year 1880," stated Mr. Nealley.
"This change is largely due to the invention of machinery to do the work formerly done by men.
It was machinery that took industry out of the home into the factory, and the greater progress made in invention, the more dependent man really becomes."

"In earlier days, the family wove its own cloth, raised its own food, provided its own candle for light, had its own well-nigh each family is dependent upon the factory or the municipality or some outside source for heat, light, clothing, water and other necessities. This social evolution has been from the simple to the complex. Change may, or may not, mean betterment."

"If the world becomes better it is because we consciously take hold of it and make it better.
Progress means the intelligent control of the facts and forces of physical nature; it is the betterment of the world through the human will. Progress depends upon the mastery by man of two great tasks—the control of heredity and the control of environment."

"Social problems now awaiting control are war and strife, autocracy and special privilege, disease, inferior hereditry, poverty, child labor, crime and lawlessness; the social evil and forces that threaten the integrity of family life, waste, illiteracy and ignorance."

"The great human goal is humanity enlightened, humanity united and humanity triumphant.
To this end is working the social engineer, who is replacing the social reformer. Organized good will is a factor of unlimited possibilities in the march of progress and one strong trend today is the social application of the teachings of Jesus."

Double L Club

Miss Marguerite Galbraith entertained a busy group of girls, intent on Christmas sewing, Tuesday evening when she was hostess to the members of the Double L club at her home on West Fourth street.

Music and merry conversation varied the stitching on dainty gifts and at an advanced hour of the evening Miss Galbraith invited her guests to the diningroom where Christmas holly added its note of cheer to the decorations and where all were seated at the table for the enjoyment of the daintily served refreshments.

Miss Ruth Loescher, Miss Mildred Smith and Miss Ruby Cameron were guests of the club whose members present were the Misses Nora Lykke, Lillian Lykke, Jennie Pollard, Emma Douglas, Elsie Williams, Eleanor Loescher, Mrs.
Van de Walker, Mrs. Ansel Nor-dine and the hostess, Miss Galbraith.

Past Matrons

Surprises will be in evidence at the regular monthly luncheon of the Past Matrons' association to be held at Masonic temple, Tuesday, November 28, at 1 p. m. The surprises will be in the nature of the different dishes the members will provide for the luncheon menu, as each will keep her contribution a secret until it is served.

Fluorspar, when crushed and raised to a rather high temperature over an iron plate, will glow

Many Celebrities
In Odd Fellowship
Welcomed at Torosa

Dignitaries of Odd Fellowship and the Rebekah Assembly added an unusual degree of interest to a splendid social occasion last night enjoyed by Torosa Rebekah lodge and its friends at Odd Fellow hall.

In honor of their visit, the business session of the lodge with its attendant interesting features, was followed by a program and reception with Mrs.
Frankie Johnson, noble grand, presiding, and Mrs. Fannie M.
Lacy, past president of the assembly and present trustee of the orphans' home at Gilroy, in charge of the entertainment.

In acknowledging the greeting extended by the lodge, Mrs. Mary M. Pierce of Los Angeles, president of the Rebekah Assembly, made a charming little talk of appreciation of the hospitality extended the visitors, and an outline of her ideals in her position as president.

James Ryan Jr., of Merced, grand master of the I. O. O. F., was an interesting speaker and emphasized the importance of the work done by the auxiliary order especially in the foundation and maintenance of the home at Gilroy.

Other prominent guests, each of whom gave a brief talk, included E. R. Lonsley, deputy grand master and Mrs. Lonsley of Los Angeles; Mrs. Marie Steinman, warden of the assembly; Miss Stella Merrick, past president;
Mrs. Fannie Lacy, past president and president trustee of the Gilroy home; Mrs. Carr Simpson of Redlands, outside guardian of the assembly; William Merrick, trustee of the grand encampment;
Major John Crawford and Major
R. D. Cook of this city; Mrs.
Mary E. Palmer, of Olive, district deputy; Henry Mang, Anaheim, deputy grand patriarch; Albert H.
F. Taylor, noble grand of the subordinate lodge, Santa Ana; C. E.
Reber, health officer of the Orientals.

Many of the talks expressed the love and esteem of the speakers and their chapters for Torosa's own Mrs. Lacy, one of the most prominent Rebekahs in the state.

Interspersed with the talks were the numbers of an entertaining program featuring a delightful piano number and violin number by Miss Lizette Phillips and Loren Cannon who chose "The Barcarolle" and gave a popular air for encore; a charming French Doll dance by fairlike little Muriel Bray and Florence Liggitt with Mrs. Anderson at the piano; bass solo by Hjalmar Johnson of Pasadena who sang
"Open the Gates of the Temple"; Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" and was accompanied by Miss Elsie Bannard, also of Pasadena; "Nicolette," an Italian monologue given by Eleanor Young Elliott; "Dance Gavotte";
by the two charming babies who gave the French Doll dance, and who for their second number were arrayed in quaint little Colonial costumes with powdered hair, hoop skirt and lace pantaloons; solo by Mrs. Mary Palmer who sweetly sang the "Bird Lullaby";
to the accompaniment of Mrs. Iva Miller of Orange; and a delightful chanty of the rolling deep sung tellingly by A. H. F. Taylor with Harry Warner at the piano.

Way was then led to the banquet hall where long tables brilliantly decked with holly, red shaded candles and red carnations presented a beautiful sight. Mrs.
George Frather arranged the decorations and was warmly complimented upon her artistic results.
A delicious banquet menu prepared by a committee whose chairman was Mrs. Molly Brown, was enjoyed by approximately three hundred guests, the tables arranged to circle that of the officers and guests who found their places by means of clever little turkey place cards.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the "flower shower" for each of the prominent guests, as well as those assisting on the program was presented with a handsome cluster of flowers, either red carnations or vivid chrysanthemums.

Ladies' Guild Tells Of Bazaar Plans

Introducing a new feature in Christmas bazaars, members of the Ladies' Guild of the Church of the Messiah will present an Oriental booth at their bazaar to be held in Parish hall, December 6, afternoon and evening.

This bazaar is ever an anticipated event among seekers after Christmas novelties, and the social features in connection with it make it doubly interesting. In the afternoon hours, a tea will offer charm to those who gather at the parish hall, and beginning at 6 p. m. one of the delectable dinners for which the guild is noted, will be served at a very reasonable cost per plate.

All manner of useful and fancy articles will be on sale and the usual cooked food booth will be an important one as will the homemade candy booth over which the girls of St. Elizabeth's guild will preside.

In the unique Oriental booth where veiled damsels form the harem will present the lovely articles of the Far East, Mrs. B. L.
Colvin will preside.

Announce Engagement
Of Their Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sortor of Minneapolis, Minn., and Santa Ana announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Luverne Sortor to Robert F. Steinberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Stein-berger of Sierra Madre.

First of Series
Of Lecture Recitals
Held at Rhodes Home

"American singers not only have the most glorious voices, but they have the greatest native intelligence on the operatic and concert stage today," declared Ellis Rhodes Tuesday night in the first of a series of lecture-recitals to be presented before his pupils during the course of the winter.

Mr. Rhodes elaborated on his theme by stating that the principal defect in American singers is in their self-consciousness and repression of emotional feeling, the result of generations of Puritanism and training in restraint.

"Racially the Italians are the best singers because they give themselves thoroughly to the emotional demands of their roles; furthermore the liquid syllables of their language with its vowel endings gives a lovelier effect to their singing than we can hope to attain with our consonant-filled monoth-tongue. However, strictly speaking, there is no true Italian, German or American school since there can be no accepted method but good singing. All schools sing exactly the same way, using the same vocal chords, the same breathing apparatus and the same breath control in really good singing."

Mr. Rhodes' talk was followed with keen interest by his pupils who later listened to a pleasing musical program presenting Miss Cecile Bowers in "Prayer Perfect" by Irene Stenson and "Come For It's June" by Dorothy Forster; Harold Girton in Homer's "Requiem" and an encore and Mrs. J. M. Hitchcock in Schubert's "Serenade" followed by an encore. The songs were all much enjoyed and the class commented with much pleasure upon the growth and development of the different voices. The piano accompaniments of Miss Ruth Armstrong were received with the usual admiration accorded the talented young pianist.

As a remarkable climax to the evening was the appearance of Eugene Stockdale, long connected with the Little Theaters of New York and Chicago, and an actor of recognized ability. Mr. Stockdale is spending a few days as the guest of his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes, ere returning to Chicago to resume his work. As a special favor to his hosts he consented to present Charles Frederick Nirdlinger's great American play "The World and His Wife."

For fifty minutes Mr. Stockdale held the undivided attention of his audience, a typically American one with all professions represented.
The play has an unusually gripping theme and is remarkable in many ways, not the least of which is the perfectly arranged climax which after three unusually fine scenes of cumulative interest is reached in the final line spoken.

Full value to the different characters was given by Mr. Stockdale and his sympathetic interpretation was secondary only to his beautiful speaking voice. The feat seems the more remarkable when it is taken into consideration that this was the artist's first appearance before a small gathering within the confines of a home.

In the later hours of the evening,
Mrs. Rhodes with the assistance of Mrs. Carrie Sutherland, Miss Marjorie Warner, Miss Esther Jean Davis, and Miss Peggy Smart served light refreshments.

Dinner Party Offers Pleasant Surprise

Congratulations upon having reached another milestone in life's pathway, were last night extended
M. C. Williams, 719 Orange avenue by a little group of guests gathered in honor of the event.

The affair was arranged by Mrs.
Williams as a surprise to her husband and was characterized by a delicious chicken dinner, at which covers were placed for Mr. M. C.
Williams, their son-in-law and daughter, Mrs. H. P. Riegler and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Leonard.

Following the dinner a merry evening was spent playing "rork."

Certain flowers will keep fresh for a very much longer time than usually if a tablet of aspirin is dis-

Thanksgiving Plans
At St. Ann's Inn
Promise Pleasure

Where are you planning to eat your Thanksgiving dinner?

Will you make it a home festival or will you emulate the plans of a number of Santa Ana hosts and enjoy the great national feast day at St. Ann's Inn where a typical Thanksgiving dinner will be served at noonday?

In discussing his plans for the holiday, Manager Schweiger today stated that both midday and evening dinner hour will be observed at the Inn, the former to meet the requirements of those who feel that custom bids the noonday observation of the holiday feast and the latter for those who wish to devote the evening to dancing.

For a dinner-dance is scheduled for Thanksgiving night, and will conclude the series of pre-holiday dances at the Inn. At noon, a musical program will mark the dinner hour. Elwood Bear, popular violinist to announce the program later.

Reservations are being made daily for parties, some of an intimate family circle, others widening to admit a number of friends.

With the cessation of the Saturday night dinner dances during the busy before-Christmas rush, Manager Schweiger felt that the final one should be unusual in many respects and to that end has made a number of interesting plans for Thanksgiving night.

Following the holiday season,
the New Years' dance-carnival will be the anticipated social event of Christmas week and the spirit of safety and carnival will rule, it was declared. No effort will be spared to make it one of the most brilliant occasions in the history of the Inn.

Girls' League

"If there is a new girl in the Santa Ana high school this year who is not acquainted with other girls it isn't because the Girls' league hasn't tried," said the officials of the league today, discussing one of the cleverest and most unique parties the high school girls have yet given, a "get-acquainted" party in the gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

Each girl who is new to Santa Ana this year was invited by an "old" girl to be her special guest at the party. In this way every new girl was introduced and greeted.

Alice Richards entertained with a little song and piano number; Dorothy Hurd, one of the new girls delighted the guests with her vocal numbers. The girls feel very fortunate in having found a new solist in the school whose work is as excellent as Miss Hurd's said those who heard her.

A piano solo by Effie Jessup, a characterization stunt by Jane Griffith and an oriental dance by Ethel Smallwood completed the program.

Not the least interesting part of the afternoon's fun was a series of stunts put on by both the new and the old girls in a clever impromptu fashion.

During the refreshments, which were served under the direction of Louise Parks, each girl was told to stand and introduce the girl on her left and tell whether she was a new girl or an old one and what her special school interests were.

Constance Crookshank, president of the club, was responsible for the very great success of the party and the girls united in according her a vote of appreciation for her management of an unusually nice party.

Stocks, Markets and Financial News

ST. JOURNAL
FINANCIAL REVIEWMarket Shows Extremely Dull Tendency as Sellers Dominate

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Again the necessities of the sellers were the dominating influence in the stock market today. Liquidation proceeded in dribbles but the only buying came from the short element and from important banking interests.

Neither group was in a mood to bid up prices. Hence offerings found a thin market except in the industrial leaders like Steel Common, Baldwin and Studebaker, which showed traces of persistent accumulation.

Steel Common broke to a new low on the move at 10 1/2, after one o'clock and the general market continued to be characterized by a generally dull tendency.

The market closed irregular. Closings prices included: U. S. Steel 10 1/2, off 1/2; Bethlehem 11 1/2, off 1/2; American Locomotive 12 1/2, off 1/2; American B. & F. 11 1/2, off 1/2; Texas Company 48 1/2; Studebaker 12 3/4, up 1/4; General Motors 14 1/2, up 1/4; Continental Can 11 1/2, off 1/4; Consolidated Gas 12 1/2, off 1/4; Corn Products 12 1/2, up 1/4; Elkhorn 23 1/2, up 1/4; B. & O. 31 1/2, off 1/4; Atchafalaya 100, off 1/4; Reading 7 1/2, up 1/4; New York Central 9 1/2, off 1/4.

GRAIN PRICES DROP ON CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Grain prices closed lower on the Chicago board of trade on depressing foreign cables, a dull domestic demand and inactivity on the part of exporters.

Heavy selling developed late in the day.

R. D. FLAHERTY QUITS BUREAU POST HERE

R. D. Flaherty has resigned his positions as secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau, it was learned today.

His resignation becomes effective January 1, 1923, when he will open an accounting office here, he said.

Flaherty came to the Orange county farm bureau as secretary-manager September 1, 1921, from Medford, Ore., where for two and one half years he was manager of the county marketing organization of that section.

It was understood the board of directors of the Orange county farm bureau was advised of Flaherty's intention to resign last September and accepted his resignation at the meeting of the board held November 2. Applications for the position were received at yesterday's meeting of the executive committee, but no definite action on the applications was reported.

Commenting on Flaherty's resignation, Dr. J. R. Schofield, president of the Orange county farm bureau, said:

"We are sorry to lose Flaherty. We would like to keep him because during the last year we have experienced the quality as well as the quantity of his work. It has been a very pleasant and prosperous year for the bureau and we consider that great credit is due our secretary-manager. We wish him all possible success in his new venture."

Flaherty said:

"Though I am leaving the position of secretary-manager January 1, 1923, I shall remain as editor of The Farm Bureau News during next year. I always shall have a feeling of kinship for the Orange county farm bureau, and want to thank its members now for the fine co-operation I have received during my pleasant year here.

"My intention to open an accounting office in Santa Ana comes as a result of being in a position to appreciate the opportunities in Orange county."

GREATEST GRAIN YEAR SEEN

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 23.—It is generally conceded by grain men here that Vancouver will experience its greatest grain shipping year in the history of the port. Col. R. G. Parkhurst, chairman of the grain shipping committee, stated that 90,000 tons of wheat will be shipped through this port during the next four months. A further 15,000 tons had been contracted for later shipment. While the United Kingdom has been an extensive buyer, the Orient has taken the majority of the shipments. Two years ago shipments of grain from this port to the Orient were practically negligible.

HUNT FOR WASSER'S TURKEY FARM FAILS

E. R. Curtis, local barber, and George Hightower, genial colored porter at the Curtis establishment today were "running" for W. W. Wasser, secretary of Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E.

Hightower craved a big, fat turkey for his Thanksgiving dinner. Wasser told him he had such a bird many of them in fact, at his ranch in the "Santa Ana canyon." He would sell these, he said, for 20 cents a pound.

Curtis was the "goat." In order to help his porter he tuned up his machine the other day and, following directions, traveled twenty-seven miles over the worst roads in history in pursuit of Wasser's elusive ranch, according to the story.

Curtis and Hightower returned from their expedition tired and disgusted. They stopped at every conceivable place that might be a ranch, they said, but could not locate Joseph Jones, whom the Elks' secretary had sworn was manager of his turkey ranch. At one place, Hightower admitted, they were chased by a ferocious bulldog and narrowly escaped destruction.

"I don't believe Mr. Wasser has any of them turkeys 'tall," Hightower muttered today.

"I don't believe the fellow even has a ranch in the Santa Ana canyon," Curtis growled.

at her father's home here Thursday night.

Albert Cabraloff, an Armenian merchant, the bridegroom-to-be, and H. E. Shranier, said to have negotiated the match, were being held pending the investigation. Authorities were also questioning her relatives.

From Siranoch the officers learned that her parents, struggling against want, thought it perfectly regular to arrange a match which would bring them financial relief, failing to comprehend that the marriage was against the law of the country.

"Did the man pay $3000 for you?" she was asked.

ARMENIAN GIRL SOLD IN MARRIAGE TO MAN FOR $3000; PROBE ON

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Siranoch Matosian, frightened little 14-year-old Armenian girl, today was questioned by officers as to how her parents, following antiquated custom of their native land, are alleged to have sold her in marriage to a man she never met for $3000.

Juvenile court authorities declared she had been taken into custody for protection following her betrothal with all the rollicking festivities of the Near East

WOMAN GETS $40,000 FOR APARTMENT HERE

Having sold the cannery at Newport Beach and her apartment house at First and Birch streets here, Mrs. M. F. Lowman said today that she was preparing to leave Santa Ana for at least two months. She said that she might spend that time with her sister at Pasadena and did not know whether she would return to this city.

The apartment was sold for $40,000 to W. A. Wassling of Los Angeles, who is expected to come here to operate the establishment, and the cannery was sold to George Fetterman of Los Angeles for $80,000, it was reported. J. M. Gillies, of the Robert March real estate company of Los Angeles, made the sales, she said.

LUMBER CAMPS ACTIVE

QUEBEC, Quebec, Nov. 23.—Demands for lumberjacks here indicate unusual activity in the lumber camps this year. It is estimated that over 1,000 men from the district have found employment in the lumber camps at wages varying from $32 to $35 a month, with board and expenses.

There is still an active demand from Ontario sources and the local superintendent of the employment service estimates 2,000 men from this district will be busy in the woods for a period of five to six months this season.

FIFTH STREET LIGHT SYSTEM IS URGED

Initiating a step in the advancement of an improvement that property owners in that section have long had under consideration, A. C. Black today was circulating among Fifth street residents a petition to the city council asking the creation of a district for the installation of an ornamental lighting system on that street.

As proposed, the system will begin on East Fifth street at French street and extend as far west as the owners desire. According to Black, it is hoped that sufficient interest will be shown to warrant extending the district as far as Artesia street.

It is pointed out that West Fifth is the main artery into Santa Ana from the west and that a fine ornamental system would serve to impress those who come into the city from the west with the progressive spirit of the city and its importance as a commercial center.

L. A. Firm Shows Faith In Future of S. A. by Mak-

Establishing a record price for Santa Ana property for subdivision purposes, Freeman H. Bloodgood, president of the Santa Ana Realty board, announced today that D. C. Huntington, of Los Angeles, Chatterton, representing the Southern California Investment company, with offices in Los Angeles, had purchased ten acres of full-bearing walnut trees located on North Flower street, between Tenth and Washington streets.

The consideration, according to Bloodgood, was $5,200 per acre. The purchase includes five acres formerly owned by A. F. Bowe, located on Washington, and five acres, formerly owned by Joseph Dismukes, Tenth and Flower streets.

Register Classified Ads Work Wonders, Say Realty Operator.

Classified advertisements in The Register are wonder workers, in the opinion of L. C. Wakeham, manager of the Home Realty company.

The insertion of a one-time, six-inch classified advertisement in The Register November 16, last, sold a $12,000 property for the Home Realty company, Wakeman reports.

Mrs. A. E. Birdley, 649 North Flower street, was the purchaser. The property consisted of a five-room house and one and one-quarter acre of ground at 1231 West Fifth street. The Home Realty company acted for F. A. Walworth. This realty firm has been in business here since October, Wakeman for several years was connected with the Jans Investment company of Los Angeles.

MILL PLAN STIRS HARBOR BOOSTERS

Local supporters of Orange county harbor development plans today were vitally interested in the announcement made in Los Angeles by Lemuel J. Coburn, wool magnate of Maine, that he had decided to establish a chain of worsted mills in Southern California.

He stated that much of the wool used in the Eastern mills comes from Southern California and Australia and points out that the establishment of mills here would effect a material saving in freight shipments of the finished goods.

Harbor boosters were interested from the standpoint of the possibility of securing one of the mills for the port and making the harbor the center of water imports and exports of materials for the chain.

TAKE LEASE ON BUILDING HERE IT IS BUILT

Facts In Connection With N. Broadway Structure
Are Made Public

With the announcement that Everett A. White, local real estate operator, has closed negotiations whereby he will take a five-year lease on the structure, details in connection with the construction of the two-story business building now being erected by the Santa Ana Development company on North Broadway between Third and Fourth streets were made public here today.

White, who plans to sub-lease the building, said that three store rooms will be located on the first floor with nine apartments on the second floor. The entire basement will be fitted up for one tenant.

$65,000 Investment.
While none of the apartments or store rooms have been sub-leased White said that the basement probably will be fitted up as a high class billiard and bowling parlor, with a marble tiled entrance.

The structure, which, when completed, will represent a total investment by the company of approximately $65,000, will be modern in every respect. The building will cost about $35,000. The land was purchased at a figure close to $30,000, it was said.

White has not taken a lease on the building which Joseph Gilmer will erect at the corner of Third street and Broadway to adjoin on the south that under course of construction for the Santa Ana Development company.

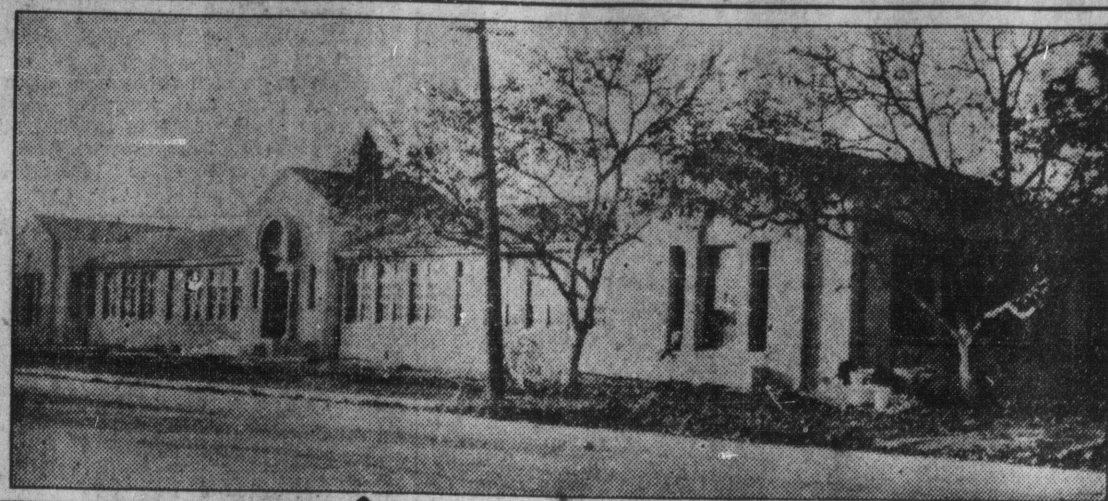

Apartments Modern.
"All of the store rooms will be ninety feet deep," White said. "One will be eighteen feet wide, the second sixteen feet and the third thirteen. The apartments will be as good as any in the city with every up-to-date detail of equipment included. Each apartment will contain three rooms."

PHOTOGRAPH STUDIO TO BE OPENED HERE

Vernon Haden, for many years associated with his father in the Seaside Studio on the Pike at Long Beach, has leased the store at 602 East Fourth street here and will open a post card studio there Saturday. The new studio is equipped with Cooper-Hewitt tubes and will be prepared to take pictures day or night. Commercial work will be a specialty of the new concern in addition to portrait work. Free pictures of all babies under three years of age will be made Saturday in order to introduce the Haden studio.

EASTWOOD PARK SUBDIVISION ON MARKET

Subdivision developments in the eastern section of this city received a decided impetus today with the announcement by D. Jones and G. E. Hasenyager, Santa Ana residents, that 95 choice lots owned by them and located on Grand avenue, between Fourth and Fruit streets, will be thrown upon the market immediately. "These lots," said Jones, discussing the seventeen acres to be subdivided, "will be sold at prices ranging from $1750 to $1950."

"The location is ideal and building restrictions will insure some of the prettiest dwellings to be found in Santa Ana. The new subdivision will be called Eastwood Park."

"In addition to securing excellent lots at reasonable prices, all things considered, buyers will also be assured of splendid producing trees. We are cutting up our walnut and citrus acreage, and this means that there will be from three to six trees on each lot."

"Virtually all improvements will be installed by the subdividers. These will include sidewalks, sewers, water, gas, electricity, curbing, paved streets and other conveniences. All buildings must be twenty-five feet from the property line and erection of temporary residences will be permitted only while permanent homes are being built."

"This section of the city, recognized as one of the finest residential centers, has long needed a subdivision of this kind. It was to meet this need that we decided to cut up our splendid acreage. The tract will be located less than one-half block from the new John Muir school. We have received many advance inquiries concerning the lots."

S. A. REALTORS RUSH PLANS FOR STATE CONCLAVE HERE

With the annual convention of the California Real Estate association, to be held in this city December 7, 8 and 9, only two weeks away, committees of the Santa Ana Realty board today were taking big strides in the development of a program for entertaining and taking care of what is said will be the greatest attendance of realtors ever present at any gathering of the brokers in the state.

The number of realty boards in the state has increased nearly 100 per cent in the past year. This, coupled with the interest in important legislative matters that will be discussed at the convention, will result in the presence of large delegations from virtually every city in the state that maintains a board.

The program for the Santa Ana convention will vary from that of past annual gatherings, for instead of devoting a great deal of time to special addresses, program hours will be given over largely to discussions of special features concerning the business of selling real estate.

Prominent Men to Speak
Among the prominent men of the state who have been asked to deliver addresses are Friend W. Richardson, governor-elect; Edwin T. Keiser, state real estate commissioner; C. L. Seagraves, colonization agent of the Santa Fe; William May Garland, former president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards; Henry S. McKee, president of the California Bankers' association; M. V. Hartman, president of the California Home Extension association; Harold J. Stonier, director of extension work, U. S. C.; J. W. S. ### TRACT IS SOLD FOR CASH IN 60 DAYS

Sold for cash within sixty days, was the report made today by Ashby Turner, realty broker, who had charge of the sale of the Catholic church tract bounded by Vance, Lacy, Wellington and Garfield streets.

Building on the tract has been begun already, he said, by M. D. Jiles and son, who purchased the east half of the tract, composed of eight lots. Jiles, according to Turner, plans the erection of eight houses, ranging in price from $4000 to $5000. The houses are reported for sale and work on four of them already has begun, he said.

Other purchasers reported by Turner include Frank Borchard, one lot; Leo Borchard, two lots; on which it is expected that he will build a $20,000 residence; Joseph Holts, one lot; two lots to the Oaklike family of Orange, and one lot to C. A. Straub, on which he is expected to build immediately.

The Catholic church tract was owned by Robert McFadden for many years. He sold to the Catholic church, whose members planned to erect a church. This plan being abandoned, the tract was placed in the hands of Turner for subdivision and sale.

TELL NEED OF EDUCATION FACILITIES FOR MEETING VAST POPULATION GROWTH

School attendance in the United States increases at an average rate of 5 per cent a year, according to school authorities.

Attendance at Santa Ana schools this year shows an increase of more than 20 per cent, according to figures supplied by F. L. Andrews, secretary of the board of education.

Attendance at Santa Ana schools therefore has been increasing four times as rapidly as in the average city.

"Enrollment in the schools has increased this year by 900," Andrews said. "Last year there were approximately 4000 pupils in the grammar schools, including kindergarten."

"This increase in pupils is enough to fill the three grammar school buildings now in course of construction, John Muir, Lowell and Washington schools."

"Each school building should have a normal enrollment of 240, that is, about 35 pupils to a class. When the enrollment goes above this figure the pupils begin to lose part of the individual attention that is due them from the class teacher."

"Of the three schools about to open, the John Muir is the only one that will have less than normal enrollment. The other two, Lowell and Washington, will have 303 and 375 pupils respectively. Must Plan For Future."

"It is evident therefore that we must plan immediately for new buildings to accommodate the overflow from present buildings and to take care of the naturally rapid increase of population in Santa Ana."

Of the three school buildings now being completed, the John Muir will be the first to open its doors to pupils. Present indications are that the school will begin its work

Lemonade and Cats---

"a story about getting something for nothing"

At a colored Sunday school picnic, two dark boys had lemonade stands—one on either side of the entrance. The pastor came along and going up to George, said, "Well, my little man, how much do you charge for your lemonade?"

"Five cents a glass," replied George.

"And how much do you charge?" he asked, turning to Harry, who ran the competing stand.

"Two cents a glass," replied Harry.

The pastor cast a censorious eye upon George and said to Harry, "I'll try a glass of yours, my boy."

As he quaffed the fluid, he smacked his lips and said, "That's good. I'll have another glass," and he smiled when he thought he was getting two glasses at less than George asked for one.

"Tell me, my little man," he said to Harry, "how can you afford to sell your lemonade for two cents a glass when George is asking five cents?"

"Well, you see," said Harry, "the cat fell in my pail."

You don't have to go to a picnic or drink lemonade or be a minister to find out that you can't get something for nothing.

When the price is cut there is usually a reason. You can't always find out what the reason is by asking. Some salesmen are less confiding than Harry. But if you are a judge of values you can usually discover the reason by making a careful examination of the offering.

It's a strange thing that a man who sees the justice and wisdom of asking a fair price for the thing he sells often fails to see the justice and wisdom of paying a fair price for the thing he buys.

The lemonade tasted good to the pastor only until he learned the reason for the cut; then any price would have seemed high.

"The above story can well be applied to Lumber buying."

Thanksgiving

THANKSGIVING DAY at the close of the harvest was first observed by the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth in 1921. It did not at that period become an annual celebration, but nevertheless was repeated often during that and the ensuing century. Congress recommended days of thanksgiving annually during the Revolution, and in 1784 for the return of peace, as did President Madison in 1815... Washington set aside such a day in 1789 after the adoption of the constitution, and in 1795 for the general benefits and welfare of the nation. The day has been fixed for the last Thursday in November by Presidential proclamation, which has become an annual custom since 1863.

The greatest wealth of the American nation, and that for which it will have chief occasion to offer grateful thanks to Almighty God on the 30th of November, consists of its home life. Man is so constituted that only in and through the home is the best to be developed in him.

When the Pilgrims and Puritans sought the bleak New England shores in the early part of the seventeenth century, it was to find a home. With that end in view they endured the severe winters their conflicts with hostile Indians, their frequent crop failures—all with fortitude and patience; for were they not in their own homes?

So with those hardy pioneers who penetrated the great West when it was No Man's Land, and finally reached the broad Pacific, leaving scattered clear across the continent as a tribute to the one great aim which they all held—homes.

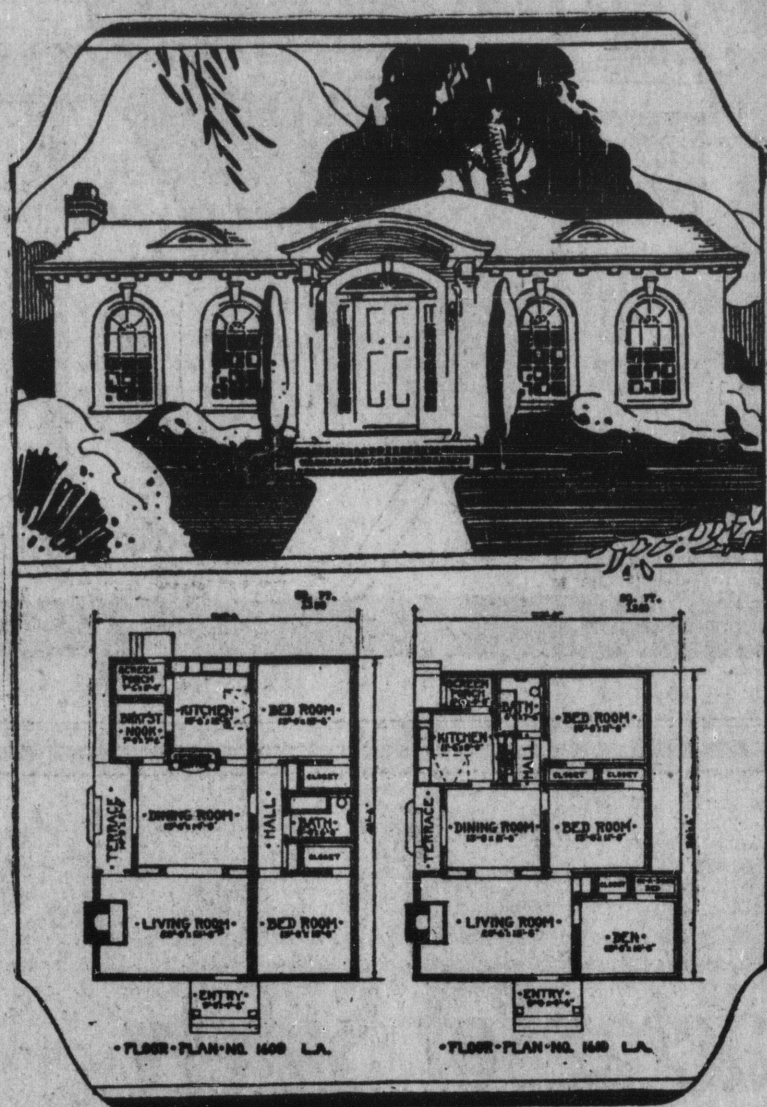

Today, as in the past centuries, the greatest blessing we as a people enjoy consists of our homes. As we gather about the board on Thursday the 30th, spread with all the products of forest and field, with that "noble bird," the turkey, in the place of honor, it will not be for that banquet alone, worthy as it may be, that we give thanks. Take the Thanksgiving dinner out of the home and put it in a restaurant or out on the desert, and it would not be a real Thanksgiving feast. But in the home, with mother to prepare it, and with father and the children to share it with her, it becomes indeed a delectable banquet, "fit for the gods."

Hence we are taking this opportunity to inquire whether or not your Thanksgiving dinner is to be all it should be—eaten in YOUR OWN HOME? Or are you still a member of that great fraternity who are "at home wherever they may hang up their hats"—meaning that they never have had the ambition and persistence which leads to home-owning?

You can exist in a boarding-house or a rented apartment but you cannot really live, giving your wife and children the comforts and sense of security which they should have, in any place other than a home.

If you are to eat your Thanksgiving dinner in your own home, then the day will indeed be a joyful one to you, and the view, retrospective, present and prospective, a gratifying one. If not, why not resolve that by the time another year rolls around you and the wife and the kiddies will have a real home? You can do it if you will. A little economy here, a little self-denial there, and the thing will be done easier and sooner than you ever dreamed could be possible.

PLAN FUNERAL FOR VICTIM OF VOLTS

Funeral services for Joseph Lieberman, 22, of 612 French street, who met death by electrocution yesterday afternoon, will be held from St. Joseph's Catholic church at 9 a. m. tomorrow, the Rev. M. H. Morris officiating. Coroner C. D. Brown conducted an inquest at the Smith and Tutill chapel late today.

According to Coroner Brown, young Lieberman, who was employed on a Delhi drainage district dredger, was killed almost instantly when the metal boom of the dredger came into contact with high voltage of the Southern California Edison company.

Eye-witnesses reported that the dredger was being operated on Sunflower avenue, near the foot of South Main street, when the boom, swinging around to empty the dredge bucket, became entangled in the power company's wires.

It was said that Lieberman received the full shock of 60,000 volts. Fellow employees rushed Lieberman to the Community hospital, in the hope that he might be revived, but physicians said he was dead upon arrival there.

Lieberman, who was a son of Mrs. Marie Lieberman, attended school at Pauline and in Santa Ana. He is survived by his mother, six sisters and one brother, all residing in Santa Ana. The sisters are the Misses Rosa, Ann, Gretchen, Helena, Agnes and Ruth. Ben Lieberman, a brother, lives at 812 South Van Ness avenue.

We rent Ford, Dodge and Buicks as low as $2.00 and $3.00 per day. Owl Taxi, 411 No. Sycamore. Phone 1488.

$10,000 PAID FOR 10 ACRES AT FAIRVIEW

Everett A. White, realtor, today announced that he had sold for Carl Helm ten acres in the Berry tract, Fairview, to Arthur Dodd and associates of Los Angeles for $10,000. This land is two miles directly east of the Fairview well.

lard, vice-president and general manager of the Southern California Edison company; W. I. Hollingsworth, director of the National Association of Real Estate Boards; Charles F. Shaw, department of agriculture, U. C., and Leslie E. Burks, president of the California association of realtor secretaries.

Plan Ball at Inn
Delegates are expected to begin arriving here Wednesday afternoon, December 6, and the first entertainment feature in connection will be the president's ball, to be held that evening at St. Ann's Inn. This function will be preceded by the quarterly meeting of the association board of directors.

According to John C. Wallace, secretary of the Santa Ana board and chairman of the executive committee of the convention, arrangements are progressing nicely, with all boards in the county co-operating. Members of this committee include Everett A. White, Freeman H. Bloodgood, Frank C. Pope, Joseph P. Smith, Carl Mock, Lew H. Wallace, F. L. Garrigues, R. L. Bisby and R. Sweetser.

The farm lands conference of the convention will be presided over by Director Herman Janss, and will be addressed by leading land owners and realtors. Bruce Cornwall, chairman of the California Land Settlement association, will be present.

To Give Dinner
A dinner in honor of the farm lands realtors from various parts of California will be given Thursday evening by Director Janss prior to the "home town contest."

Friday there will be an association luncheon at Anaheim under the chairmanship of J. S. Howard. In the afternoon the delegates will go on a sight-seeing trip through the rich back country of Orange county.

Thursday afternoon the women visitors to the convention will be the guests of the Laguna Beach realtors, who have Mrs. A. G. Walters as their chairman. Others on the committee are Joseph Skidmore, E. E. Jahraus and Roy W. Peacock.

The multiple listing conference will be presided over by State Vice President Albert E. Kern, and one of the leading talks will be by H. C. Voss, secretary of the Southwest Realty board of Los Angeles, whose board is one of the strongest advocates of multiple listing.

There will be a second convention in Santa Ana at the same time. The second annual convention of the California Association of Realtor secretaries will be held at Santa Ana, and every local realty board has been expressly urged by President C. C. C. Tatum to send its secretary to this convention. Sessions will be held Friday and Saturday mornings in the shape of breakfast conferences at James's gold room.

ORANGE COUNTY TO GET $76 FROM U. S.

Thirty-nine counties in California which have national forests within their borders, will receive $157,191 from the federal treasury for school and road development work, according to a statement made in San Francisco by District Forester P. G. Redington. This sum represents 25 per cent of the $628,765 received during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922, from the timber sales, grazing permits and other sources of national forest revenue.

Plumas county, which leads the list, will receive $22,925. Tuolumne county is second with $18,184, and Lassen county third with $12,726. The smallest apportionment is $76 to Orange county in Southern California, within which is located a small portion of the Cleveland national forest, which lies mostly in San Diego county.

An additional 10 per cent of national forest receipts, amounting to $62,876, will also be expended by the forest service in the construction of minor roads and trails within the forests in the various counties.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up Kidney Deposits are Dissolved and the Toxins (Poisons) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Your very life," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys so whatever you do don't neglect them." Dr. Carey's famous Prescription No. 777 (known for years as Marshroot) is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water, night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating, irritability with loss of flesh, or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be stealing upon you.

Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription now obtainable in both liquid and tablet form if you have any of the above symptoms. Kidney and Bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unfailing certainty. If you even suspect that you are subject to Kidney Disease, don't lose a single day for every good druggist has been authorized to return the purchase money on the first big bottle to all who state they have received no benefit.—adv.

POLY GIRLS TO MEET H. BEACH BASKETERS

The girls' basketball team of the local high school here is "going strong," according to the statement made today by Miss Nellie Wilson, coach, and was ready for the game with Huntington Beach here today at 3:30 p. m. This was the second league game of the season, Santa Ana having been victorious over Tustin last Thursday.

Huntington Beach was an unknown quantity and the local players could do no more than guess what they would be up against. The probable line-up for the Santa Ana team was to be: Forwards, Josephine Crookshank and Frances Cocroft; centers, Sallie Cochran and Thelma Patton; guards, Mabel Cooke and Ruth Finley. Substitutes will be Annie Tarver, Boyd Joplin and Axia Goodykoontz.

You Can Buy a Choice Lot in Santa Ana's Best Residential Section for $1,000 to $2,750

Good East Front Lots, $1450

Here's the Whole Story:

—On French Street, between 15th and 17th streets, is the splendid property known as the Dresser Tract. This is divided into a number of choice lots—large lots—with the best of soil, and on each lot there are a number of bearing walnut trees.

—This tract is surrounded by some of the finest homes and the best people of the town. The streets are paved with six inch paving. All modern improvements go with the lots, and all improvements are paid for.

—This property has NEVER CHANGED HANDS but once since the Spanish Grant. The prices are away down low, considering the surroundings and the character of the improvements. $1,000 to $2,750 buys the lots. Very reasonable terms are available.

—Building restrictions protect the buyers against inferior improvements, and buildings.

—This is the only available property left in this section of Santa Ana. School, churches and supplies are within a block or two of the property. There is absolutely no undesirable feature. See us at once if you want a good investment or a place to build a home.

Now The Factor of Safety

—The value of a piece of property does not depend upon the ticker tape. It will not become worthless overnight through someone's misjudgment and be heralded in the morning as a "duster."

—Property, improved or unimproved, purchased with a conservative anticipation of legitimate increase in value is the most stable of investments.

—No one is more able to advise, no one more capable of directing a prospective purchaser than a man who is making the sale of real estate his vocation—a man who is identified with that vocation—as a doctor, a banker, a lawyer or a minister is identified with his.

—A Realtor, one who belongs to the National Association through his membership in the local Realty Board, is a man who is making the study of realty values and the sale of real property his life vocation—he will be here tomorrow and a year from now.

—His future depends upon his dealings today.

CLAIMS FUTURE OF EUROPE IS UP TO U. S.

BY KARL A. BICKEL
(General Manager of United Press)
(Copyright, 1922, by United Press)
(Copyright in Canada)

LONDON, Nov. 23.—British hope of American participation in European affairs, helping to rescue the old world from the chaos caused by the war, was voiced today by Premier Andrew Bonar Law in an exclusive interview given to the United Press.

In forty minutes' conversation, Bonar Law granted the first statement he has made to any newspaper correspondent since his accession to the premiership. "There is nothing to trouble us on the western horizon," Bonar Law declared, adding he hoped America, which he described as the most idealistic nation in the world, would in some way become associated with the League of Nations, thus fulfilling a duty to relieve European chaos.

Most of the time Bonar Law speaks in a modulated voice with an air of the utmost candor and frankness. The premier has an exceedingly engaging personality and I easily understood the reason for his leadership of the Conservative party and the personal loyalty of his followers.

Bonar Law displayed keenest interest in American affairs and showed the closest understanding of American political and economic questions. Despite the rigors of a grueling campaign, he appeared to have retained the full vigor of his strength as he spoke of the problems Britain is facing, greatly bellying rumors that his health is weakening.

"Our relations with our kinsmen across the Atlantic involve something more than bargaining," the premier declared in his statement to the United Press. "They are the outgrowth of common views, common ideals and common suffering in a great cause."

RETURNS TO S. A. WITH YOUNG GRECIAN BRIDE

One man in Santa Ana wasted happiness from the chaos that has been in Greece. He is Nick P. Rousos, proprietor of a local hat works, who several months ago went back to Greece to claim his young bride. They were married overseas last July and have returned to Santa Ana after touring the Mediterranean countries.

Rousos and his bride saw Smyrna after the city had been put to the torch by Mustapha Kemal, saw its citizens rush from the flames to their death in the Mediterranean, saw innumerable bodies floating on those waters, saw aid refused to many by crews of nearby boats, and were at Athens, when King Constantine abdicated, they said.

They have made application for American citizenship.

TEACHERS TO GIVE FATHERS RECEPTION

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 23.—The Parent-Teachers' association will give a reception for the fathers Friday evening, November 24, at 7:30 o'clock. This association had a membership drive recently and the losing side is giving this entertainment. After a splendid program, which has been arranged by the ladies, refreshments will be served.

GADSKI SAYS U. S. WANTS GOOD MUSIC AND LAGER BEER

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Two things, at least, in America cannot be wiped out.

They are Wagnerian music and lager beer.

That was the opinion expressed by Mme. Johanna Gadski, noted concert and opera singer, who is in San Francisco today.

"Demand for better music is growing constantly in America," she said. "Jazz may have a small place, but Wagner will live forever."

As to lager beer, she declared the Volstead act will be modified because "Americans look upon simple drinking pleasures as a native right."

FAIR TRACT ON S. A.-ANAHEIM ROAD URGED

Location of the Orange county fair on a permanent site between Santa Ana and Anaheim, on the state highway, was under consideration today by a committee of the fair association directors, following a meeting of the board here late yesterday, at which a delegation of men from Anaheim, Brea and Orange presented a suggestion that such a location be secured.

The delegation was composed of Harry D. Riley, Anaheim; L. L. Merrifield, Brea; L. F. Coburn, M. Eldeste, Orange, and T. C. Guyman, Fullerton.

It was pointed out that such fair grounds would be nearer the center of population of the county and that the California Valencia show could be held at the fair grounds annually.

A committee, consisting of D. Eymann Huff, Dr. J. R. Schofield and R. D. Flaherty, was appointed to give consideration to the proposal and report at a meeting of the directors to be held next Monday afternoon at 4 p. m.

At yesterday's meeting several other matters of importance to the development of permanent plans for the association were referred to committees for detail investigation and report at the next meeting of the directors.

Attorney Asks Data.

Attorney H. C. Head, as chairman of committee to prepare incorporation papers, asked for information as to the character of association to be organized, whether it is to be non-stock and non-profit or organized on a membership basis. Many other points on which information is necessary for preparing articles of incorporation will be brought out later.

Before deciding the plan of organization it first is necessary to ascertain what the board of supervisors and the city council of Santa Ana will do toward assisting in financing the purchase of the site and other expenses that will be necessary to carry on the project. If the two bodies promise to provide the money it is possible a non-stock organization will be created.

Name Committees.

A committee was appointed to go before the council Monday night and the supervisors next Tuesday to ascertain what may be expected of them. The members of the committee are Harry D. Riley, Anaheim; L. L. Merrifield, Brea; Willard Smith, Villa Park; R. L. Obarr, Huntington Beach, and O. A. Haley and T. E. Stephenson, Santa Ana.

J. A. Smiley, Charles D. Spicer and R. D. Flaherty were appointed a committee to investigate plans for a street along the east side of the fair grounds on Bristol street, tentatively selected as a permanent site for the fair.

A movement is now on foot to annex a section adjoining the city on the south, including the fair grounds. The fair ground tract is not square and in order to open a north and south street along the east side it will be necessary to make exchanges between owners of the fair grounds and property adjoining. Messrs. Ford and Borchard are the men particularly concerned and it is understood they are agreeable to property exchange with the fair management that will make it possible to open a street, giving the grounds another avenue of entrance and placing them on four streets.

NAME 'OTHER WOMAN' IN DIVORCE ACTION

Naming a Los Angeles woman as corespondent, Alma Waller today had on file in the superior court here a suit for divorce from her husband, G. T. Waller.

Waller was continually unfaithful and unaffectionate to his wife she alleged. On one occasion a telegram from a woman in San Francisco was found by the wife she claimed. The other woman appealed for money, telling Waller that she "was flat broke and needed $50," Mrs. Waller asserted.

The couple were married in 1916, it was said, after the defendant had been convicted of a serious offense involving the girl, who was then 17 year old, the suit set forth.

$25,000 PROPERTY IS BEQUEATHED IN WILL

Property valued at $25,000 was involved in the will of Anna F. Derksen, 78, who died at Anaheim November 17, according to a petition to probate on file in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court today.

Henry F. Derksen, San Bernardino, son of the deceased, was petitioner and principal beneficiary, the only other disposition being an order to August Backs, Anaheim, to turn over $500 to the bishop of Paderborn, Germany, to be used to educate young men to the priesthood.

THE RUCKSTELL TWO SPEED AXLE gives the Ford car an Intermediate, noiseless gear for traffic and hill climbing. An emergency low for heavy pulling. A quick pick up. A positive, rapid shift. A 20% higher road speed if desired.

The Ruckstell 2 Speed Axle adds to the Ford Car resale value

BECAUSE—It is Not an Accessory
Nor an Auxiliary Transmission
It Becomes an Integral Part of the Ford

THE RUCKSTELL Two Speed Axle is built right into the car, becoming part of the mechanism, without altering or eliminating any working Ford part. Thus the car's value is enhanced by the addition.

As proof of this, authorized Ford dealers sell new cars, Ruckstell Axle equipped—their acknowledgment of its value and worth.

Furthermore, should you so desire, the Ruckstell Two Speed Axle can, at any time, be transferred to a new car.

The Ruckstell Two Speed Axle, is, therefore, an investment in comfort, economy, flexibility and speed, which commands its full resale value.

DEBATERS PUT LAST TOUCHES ON SPEECHES

High school and junior debaters today were putting the finishing touches on their speeches in preparation for the opening of the debating season with tomorrow morning's debates here.

At the high school assembly period, 9:50 o'clock, the local high school teams will meet Huntington beach here and Fullerton at Fullerton in a triangular simultaneous debate.

As this is the first lap of the race for the new county cup, high school students are demonstrating not a little interest in the debate, it was stated.

The college debate has been scheduled for 1:30 o'clock in the high school music room and will be a dual debate between Santa Ana and Fullerton.

WOOLWINE STANDS PAT IN BIG ROW

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine today stood ready to fight any move against him that may result from a secret meeting of pastors and civic workers held here yesterday.

Woolwine in characteristic statements, denounced the move against him as the "most unjust, high-handed and despotic attempt at bullying" he had ever met with. He asserted that the ministers had failed to present to the grand jury "any specific instance of misconduct in office or lax law enforcement."

"Whether they know it or not," he asserted, "they are backed by a band of character assassins and unscrupulous politicians who would wreck the county to see me out of office."

Woolwine said he had reconsidered all thought of resigning and that he would "remain in office as long as my term lasts."

CALIF. MAN TO FIGHT RETURN TO CANADA

(United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23.—Attorneys for Tom Miller, arrested here for alleged embezzlement of general merchandise store funds from a mining company at Britannia, B. C., announced they will fight to the last ditch the extradition proceedings that are expected to be put in motion today.

While the technical complaints against Miller charge the embezzlement of small amounts, it is declared by attorneys retained by the Canadian government in the case, that defalcations that may reach several hundred dollars have been discovered.

Miller, who is an American citizen, was manager of stores of the Britannia Mining company, near Vancouver. He claims that he resigned more than a year ago, and that he is not responsible for any losses by the company.

"I got none of the money," Miller is said to have told United States Marshal Rice, the arresting officer, "and I'm not going back to tell on the 'higher ups' in the mining game back there."

Miller was arrested at his home here Tuesday. He has retained Attorneys MacDonald and Thompson to fight extradition.

Assistant United States Attorney Layne aided by private attorneys retained by the Canadian government, announced that he would start extradition proceedings probably today.

EPISCOPALIANS PLAN DRIVE IN COUNTY

Following a meeting of the rectors and members of the Episcopal churches of Santa Ana, Orange and Anaheim, held here last night, plans were announced today for the completion of the Episcopal campaign for extension work of the church.

At a meeting to be held here next Friday night features of the campaign of the local parish will be discussed by the Rev. W. L. H. Benton and others. The following Sunday, between 2 and 5 p. m., virtually every member of the Episcopal churches in Orange county will be visited.

"This campaign," said the Rev. Mr. Benton, at last night's meeting, "has been of great benefit to the church, both spiritually and financially. The conference is a part of the campaign for extension of the work of the church, showing what has been done and presenting ideas for contemplated extension."

Last night's meeting marked the final conference of a campaign extending over a period of three years.

BISHOP ADDRESSES EVANGELICAL FOLK

A large congregation at the Zion's Evangelical church here last night heard a sermon delivered by Bishop Lawrence H. Seager, D. D., head of the Pacific district of the Evangelical church.

"The Temptation of Christ," was the text of the sermon and Bishop Seager brought a message of strength and value to his hearers, according to their comments today.

"What we do today influences our lives for tomorrow as what we have done in the past is being felt in our lives today," said the bishop. "We cannot have everything we want, or go where we please, or do as we please, but must always be thinking of the result of our actions."

WOOLWINE'S DEFEAT MORE COSTLY THAN RICHARDSON VICTORY

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—Thomas Lee Woolwine spent $1,000 more during his unsuccessful campaign for the governorship than did Friend W. Richardson in his successful campaign. Woolwine spent $1,400, according to expense accounts filed with the secretary of state, while Richardson spent $431.15. The major portion of both accounts was spent in traveling.

Records show that Senator Hiram Johnson spent $271.53 during his campaign, Frank H. Kerrigan, W. A. Sloans and Emmett Seawell, successful candidates for the supreme court bench, spent $718.79, $760.64 and $472.24, respectively.

HUNT BOARDER IN SLAYING OF PAIR

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Jennie Radman and John Sliscovich were shot and killed as they sat in the kitchen of the Radman home here last night.

The woman in a dying statement said that Martin Sliscovich, cousin of John, shot her. Martin was a boarder at the Radman home.

Three children of Mrs. Radman, the oldest nine, were witnesses of the tragedy.

Police have been unable to find Martin Sliscovich.

Marko Radman, husband of the dead woman, was away from home at the time of the shooting.

WOMAN'S CAR LOSES WHEEL; AUTOS CRASH

Mrs. B. L. Chillonson could not control her automobile when a rear wheel fell off yesterday, and the car collided with a Crown stage on East Fourth street near Bush street, according to a report on file today at police headquarters.

Both machines were damaged, it was said, but because of the low rate of speed of both cars, no one was hurt.

STAGE SET FOR PERSIMMON INSTITUTE

Farmers of the county who are interested in the production of persimmons today were making preparations for taking part in the institute of persimmon growers to be held at the auditorium of the high school at Fullerton tomorrow afternoon.

The program will begin at 1:15 p. m. Those who plan to exhibit fruit are requested to leave it at the auditorium by 10 a. m.

The institute is sponsored by the Orange county farm bureau and the agricultural extension of Orange and Los Angeles counties.

It is possible steps will be taken to organize the growers into an association.

ASSASSINS FAIL IN PLOT AGAINST KING

BUCHAREST, Nov. 23.—An attempt was made today to assassinate King Ferdinand of Roumania by wrecking his train en route to Transylvania, where his majesty was bound on a hunting expedition. A scout train which preceded that of Ferdinand was derailed. The king's train was halted at Brasov.

DATA ON CAMPAIGN COSTS FILED HERE

Sam Jernigan, sheriff-elect, made use of more money than any other candidate during his campaign, preceding the recent election, according to accounts filed with County Clerk J. M. Backs.

Jernigan's expenses totaled $151.16, he certified. He received no donations toward this fund, according to his report.

Among others who filed reports were the following:
C. E. Jackson, candidate for sheriff, $69; George Jeffrey, supervisor-elect, fifth district, $88; John Mellen, candidate for assemblyman, $12.40; Joseph Ryan, constable-elect, Santa Ana township, $9.50; A. K. Cravath, candidate for constable, Santa Ana township, $36.

GROVE CLUB WANTS TO ENTER LEAGUE

Blaeholder, Salt Lake Star, To Recruit Team for Rest of Season

Prepared to take action on the application of the Garden Grove baseball team to enter the Orange County Harbor league for the rest of the season by assuming the bye games existing because there are now but seven clubs in the organization, representatives of the various clubs in the circuit will meet at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the Victor Walker sporting goods store here.

It was expected today that the league will act favorably on Garden Grove's application. If the team is allowed to enter and assume the "bye" schedule it will make the league an eight-club affair and will enable each outfit to play every Sunday.

The teams at present in the organization are the Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion, the Van Dien-Young company of Santa Ana, El Modena, Newport, El Toro and the Tustin Knights of Pythias.

Harry Blaeholder, star young pitcher for the Salt Lake club of the Pacific Coast League club, is in charge of the Garden Grove team and will make the application before the league managers. If his team is admitted Blaeholder will twirl, baseball fans pointed out that his addition to the circuit will help the games in this section.

Blaeholder is a Garden Grove boy and was taken to the Salt Lake camp two years ago by "Gavvy" Cravath. He showed such promise last season that experts claim it is but a question of a few years until he will be with a major league club.

There are many fast baseball players in the Garden Grove district and Blaeholder believes his charges will be able to put up a real battle for the Harbor league title. The Grove team won the championship and the beautiful Spalding trophy last year.

If the club's application is acted on favorably the league probably will decide to receive applications for another umpire to work out the "bye" schedule. This official will receive the same compensation that the other league arbiters are paid.

Gypsy Kid Breaks Even In Two Pool Games Against Local Players

Walter Louis, (Gypsy Kid) broke even in his first two matches with Santa Ana pocket billiard experts at the Valencia parlors on North Main street here last night.

Playing on the Valencia tables for the first time Louis couldn't get started in his match with Tod Mozley and was badly beaten by the local star, 60 to 53. Louis is playing the local cue sharks 100 points to 60.

The "kid," however, got under way in the second fray and conquered "Blondy" De Gray 100 to 51.

Mozley won the first tilt in nineteen innings. He had a high run of fourteen. Louis' best mark in this match was seventeen. De Gray's best run was fourteen. Louis had runs of thirty-four and seventeen, winning in eighteen innings.

Between games Frank ("Cowboy") Elder, manager of the Gypsy Kid, gave an exhibition of trick and fancy shots that was well received by the big crowd.

Louis will meet two other Santa Ana players at the Valencia tonight, George ("Red") Smith and Pat Dillon. The games begin at 8 o'clock.

YALE, HARVARD ON EDGE FOR BIG TILT

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Two of the season's most outstanding football events are to be staged Saturday, when the Army and the Navy engage in their annual battle at Philadelphia and Yale plays Harvard at New Haven.

For once, Yale and Harvard will play second fiddle as far as the general public is concerned. Princeton has already won the "big three" championship, Harvard has been beaten twice and so has Yale.

West Point and Annapolis always furnish the real spectacle of the season and if the weather is at all decent, the battle between the cadets and midshipmen should be even more brilliant from a picture standpoint in the new Franklin Field stadium.

Both have exceptionally fine teams. The Army eleven has not been defeated although the games with Yale and Notre Dame ended in ties. The Navy has only a rather fluky defeat at the hands of Pennsylvania to blot its season's record.

Against Notre Dame and Yale, the cadets looked somewhat sluggish above the shoulders and they will have to play smarter football if they are to beat the midshipmen.

Yale is being made the favorite over Harvard.

CARDS, BEARS AWAIT BIG GAME SATURDAY

"Tiny" Thornhill (left) and Andy Kerr, (right) Stanford's coaches. Both are at the Cardinal institution to install the Warner system of football. Glenn Warner, who coached the famous Carlisle Indians and now mentor of the University of Pittsburgh, the team that defeated Washington and Jefferson last Saturday, will take charge of football at Stanford in 1924.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Both California and Stanford let down on their training today and awaited Saturday when the whistle blows for the annual "big game" to decide football supremacy between the two universities.

The Bears went through their last hard drill yesterday afternoon and will spend the remaining time at various unannounced places where they can have peace and quiet.

The Cardinals left last night for Los Gatos where they will remain until Saturday morning.

Stanford's campus has taken hope during the last few days. Every one "down on the farm" is now pointing out that Stanford has perfected a defensive team and that a defensive team, if it gets some breaks, always has a chance to score.

"If Stanford gets all the breaks in the big game that she hasn't had in other games," explained one Cardinal supporter, "she's going to win."

must be admitted that Stanford hasn't been overburdened with the attentions of the Goddess of Luck thus far this season.

ALLEGED INTOXICATED DRIVER BOUND OVER

W. C. Leland was held to answer in superior court, by Justice J. B. Cox, before whom he underwent a preliminary examination on charges of operating an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Leland, who was arrested following an accident on the Garden Grove boulevard, November 1, presented no defense witnesses at the hearing. The prosecution called James Jessup, who was driving a car which figured in a collision with Leland's machine.

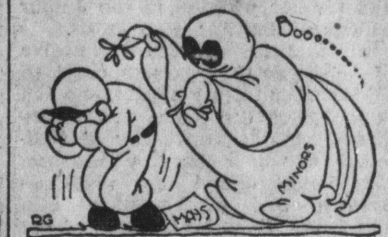

Jessup testified that the Leland automobile crossed to the left of the road, struck his car, and then turned turtle. He said that he smelled liquor on the defendant's breath.

MAYS, YANK HURLER, DUE FOR JAUNT TO MINORS IS REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Since the defeat of the Yankees by the Giants, rumors galore have been spread relative to changes that would be made in the club before the opening of next season. Some of these changes will no doubt materialize, others will prove to be mere piffle.

However, of all the rumors circulated, one thing seems certain, Carl Mays will not be with the Yankees next year. Ever since joining the club Mays has been a bone of contention that has kept the team in a constant turmoil.

The purchase of Mays by the Yankees from Boston after President Johnson had suspended the pitcher caused a wide split in the American league that has not yet been healed.

The New York club in order to be able to play Mays went to the courts and had a permanent injunction restraining President Johnson from interfering with him in any way.

Boston and Chicago sided in with New York in the fight on Johnson, demanding that he be ousted. The other five clubs remained loyal. For a time it appeared as if the split might cause the formation of a third league.

Then came the unfortunate killing of Ray Chapman by a wildly pitched ball by Mays. At one time it looked as if the seven other clubs would go on strike unless Mays was removed from baseball.

Ruth and Mays have been at odds ever since they became members of the club, and as a result discipline has suffered.

SELL S. A. TICKET ALLOTMENT IN HOUR

Grid Fans In Rush to Get Pasteboards for Poly, Fullerton Battle

Santa Ana's general public quota of tickets to the Poly-Fullerton football battle at Fullerton next Tuesday was sold in less than one hour today.

The allotment was placed on sale at the Victor Walker sporting goods store at 7:30 a. m. At 8:25 a. m. the last ticket was purchased.

The demand for seats proves what football followers here have predicted—the game will draw the largest crowd that ever witnessed a game in Orange county.

The Santa Ana general allotment was 561 tickets. The Poly student body had access to 600 pasteboards. Of the general public total seventy-five seats were reserved for each of the three clubs, the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis. About fifty were reserved for the high school faculty.

Officials here today called the attention of local football fans to the fact that there will be standing room available around the fence and in front of the grand stand for approximately 2000 persons.

A rumor that carpenters will be put to work today to build temporary bleachers to make room for hundreds who will seek admission was denied here.

"Standing room" tickets will be on sale the day of the game but persons holding these pasteboards will not be allowed to enter the grounds until after 2 o'clock. The game will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

Those in charge of the ticket sale here today advised local persons who were unable to secure reserved seats to be on the grounds early Tuesday if they desire to see the game standing. It was freely predicted that more than 5000 persons will be at the field when the tilt begins.

With the "big game" of Orange county but a few days away the rival schools today were beginning to feel the atmosphere of the affair. Santa Ana was playing Huntington Beach here this afternoon. Fullerton met Orange yesterday. It is expected that both Coaches Morrison and Smith will taper down on their work from now on. They will take no chances on getting any of their first stringers put out of the Tuesday clash.

The VERDICT of ENGINEERS

Scores of devices have been built to harness the recoil of automobile springs so that you could have the utmost in riding comfort—and have fallen short of that mark.

Before the arrival of Watson STABILATORS automobile engineers had almost given up hopes of ever finding a device that would adequately control spring recoil under all conditions, and yet not hamper the natural suppleness of the springs.

By giving the very results desired STABILATORS have solved completely the last perplexing problem in securing supreme riding comfort. They have won the endorsement of the engineers because they automatically control spring recoil in proportion to the amount of spring compression.

No other device on the market can do this.

Look at this matter of riding comfort through the eyes of such engineers as Louis Stellman of the Franklin factory, Fred Duesenberg, Henry M. Crane and Henry Leland. Demand the one device that controls spring recoil as it should be controlled.

Come to any of the dealers listed below and see just how Watson STABILATORS work. Try a set on your car for 15 days. If you are not satisfied they will be taken off and your money refunded.

Junior College Offers Courses of High Value

(In order that it may be better understood that in the Junior College, Santa Ana, has an exceptional educational institution, a series of articles is being published by The Register telling of various departments of the college.)

French Department.

This article takes up the French department with Miss Lella Watson, the Spanish, with Miss Mary Swass and the library, Miss Mary Harris being the head librarian and Miss Margaret Baker, the assistant.

The Junior college offers courses in both elementary and advanced French, stressing the understanding and speaking the language. This work is under the direction of Miss Lella Watson.

Miss Watson holds a diploma in French language and literature from the University of California at Berkeley. She is a native of Spain through the able guidance of Miss Mary Swass who by her scholarship is admirably qualified for her position in the Junior college as teacher of Spanish.

Although Miss Swass is a native of California, her parents came to this country from Portugal, and the language of the home was Portuguese. At the University of California, of which she is a graduate, Miss Swass elected two majors—Spanish and mathematics. She was fortunate to be in some of the classes of Professor Bonill y San Martin, of the University of Madrid, in his own country and elsewhere a recognized authority on Spanish literature. Another great authority under whom Miss Swass has studied is Professor Onis, now professor of Spanish in Columbia University, who was lecturing in the University of Mexico during the past summer when she was attending classes there.

Her knowledge of the Latin peoples, her sympathetic understanding of their ideals, and her thorough acquaintance with their best literature, make her classes interesting and profitable. Not only are plays and novels read, but occasionally Spanish plays are dramatized. These plays, several of which have been staged during the past few years, have been a credit to the Modern Language department, and they have contributed both pleasure and instruction to the students of Spanish.

The library is an important and integral part of the Junior college, for here all work is centered. The college is fortunate in having in charge of their work two women of the caliber of Miss Mary Harris and Miss Margaret Baker. Both of them come from Pomona college and both studied library work there and also at the Public Library school at Los Angeles, the only school in California and one of two west of the Mississippi that is a credited library school.

Miss Harris, before coming here as head librarian taught school for two years in the Caldwell high school in Idaho, teaching History and English.

Miss Harris is giving a course in Library Science. Part of this is a lecture course wherein the inner workings of a library are explained and part in practical work as each student must do the actual work of a librarian.

ent she is preparing for publication a literary work dealing with early Spanish dramatists.

Among the honors Miss Watson has received are election to the Phi Beta Kappa and to the American Philological Association, national organizations of eminent scholars. She is also connected with a large number of language clubs, being now vice president of the Modern Language Teachers' association of Southern California.

Miss Swass.

Ambitious students have a real opportunity to become familiar with the language and the literature of Spain through the able guidance of Miss Mary Swass who by virtue of her lineage as well as her scholarship is admirably qualified for her position in the Junior college as teacher of Spanish.

Although Miss Swass is a native of California, her parents came to this country from Portugal, and the language of the home was Portuguese. At the University of California, of which she is a graduate, Miss Swass elected two majors—Spanish and mathematics. ### HERBERT RAWLINSON FILM AT PRINCESS

With the coming of Herbert Rawlinson's latest Universal starring vehicle, "Confidence," to the Princess tonight and Friday, there will be presented one of the most appealing of small town tales.

In this picture, Rawlinson, always a capable dramatic exponent of crooks and confidence men, plays the part of a highbinder who doesn't know that he is one. When he does find out that he is being used as a tool for one of the most notorious confidence men in the country, he sets about turning the tables.

Playing opposite Rawlinson in leading feminine role is Harriett Hammond who heads a supporting cast of many well known players. Among them are Hallam Cooley, Lincoln Plumer, William A. Carroll, Otto Hoffman, William Robert Daly, John Stepping, Melbourne McDowell, Gerald Pring, Robert Millasch and Sam Allen.

Following the Rogers families and Mrs. Rogers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otta, who recently arrived here from Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Butler spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davis in San Pedro.

Myron Bodenhorn of Shafter visited relatives here from Friday until Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hibbits and son Charles of Lompoc visited from Saturday until Wednesday at the J. O. Arkley home. Hibbits is Mrs. Arkley's brother.

Mrs. Hugh Tyler and two children returned Friday from a week's visit with relatives in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Jackson visited their granddaughter, Virginia Cain at Montebello, Sunday. Little Virginia is much improved from her sick spell. The Jacksons also visited their daughter, Mrs. R. C. Mester in Los Angeles.

Miss Harriett Brown was a Los Angeles visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Butler and the former's father, A. O. Butler, motored to Barstow Saturday returning home Sunday.

Miss Olive Northcross spent Saturday with friends in Los Angeles.

J. E. Brown and family accompanied by friends from Santa Ana and Long Beach spent Sunday at Camp Baldy.

WEST END

TONIGHT

"That's the time we fooled 'em, mither."

They'd banished his real mother—sent her back to Ireland, they thought—but then they didn't know Dennis.

It's a combination of laughs and actions—and proof that you can't beat the combination of mother love and a fearless heart.

NEW CHANCELLOR OF GERMANY IN OFFICE

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—Chancellor Cuno took over the reins of government yesterday despite the fact that it was a religious and legal holiday. He held several informal conferences with his ministers.

No reply has yet been received from Herr von Rosenberg, named for the foreign portfolio, who is on his way to Berlin from Copenhagen. Rudolph Oerz, Democratic leader and former minister of transportation in Prussia, has formally advised the chancellor of his acceptance as head of the ministry of the interior. Thus, with the possible exception of the foreign minister the new cabinet will be complete.

Indications last night point to the probability that the new government program will be wholly based on the last ministry's note to the Reparations commission, inasmuch as this program received the approval of the former coalition parties and the German people's party, it is not improbable that the new cabinet will dispense with the formality of asking for a voted confidence.

INDICT TWO WOMEN IN POISON DEATHS

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Two indictments formally charging Mrs. Tillie Klimek and Mrs. Nellie Sturmer Koulik, the "Lady Bluebeards," with the murder by poison of their husbands, were returned by the grand jury late yesterday. In the first indictment both women are charged jointly with the murder of Frank Kupczyk, third husband of Mrs. Klimek. In the second they are charged jointly with the killing of Wojcik Sturmer, first husband of Mrs. Koulik. Arsenic was found in the bodies of each.

At the same time the indictments were being returned it was announced that the bodies of four more persons, supposed victims of the women, will be exhumed and examined for traces of poison.

VEST POCKET RADIO POSSIBILITY, CLAIM

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I doctored with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."—Mrs. M. SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various forms of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing its merit.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound?

STOLEN WALNUTS FOUND IN ORCHARD

HARPERVILLE, Nov. 23.—One of our orange growers while walking about in his orange grove found steps leading to one particular tree and on investigation found four filled bags of budded walnuts, that evidently had been hidden away by some sneak thief or thieves apparently, and has not been able to find the owners from whom they were stolen.

The winds of Monday night blew down some fruit and in some orange groves quite a few oranges are lying about on the ground.

Mrs. E. E. Cowdick, Mrs. F. P. Rossetto, and Rollin Rossetto and wife were visitors in Los Angeles last Thursday, and on their way home stopped at the Willowbrook Congregational church and enjoyed a fine evening dinner served by the ladies of the church.

HARPERVILLE NEWS.

Sam Weaver and wife are week-end visitors in Los Angeles. Sam is stone and brick mason for Harperville and has erected a number of stone and cement structures that are a combination of houses and water tanks.

Martin Seaver is out again, and recovering from a dose of overwork that left him with a useless arm for some weeks. Martin was sowing his clover crop in his orange orchard and tried to do it on record time. He got the record and with it a sore shoulder and arm that put him in bed and necessitated a doctor's service.

Harperville has a number of salaried men who are disposing of all interests and it is said that those who are lucky enough to be purchasers are certain to realize good profits.

It is reported that an oil company is again busy in nearby districts and getting possession of oil territory. Harperville has never thought but that oil is under their land and it is only a question of time until it will be brought to the surface.

Garden Grove folks were using the old-time candles in their places of business last Monday evening. The electric machinery went out of repair and it was interesting to purchase groceries and other necessities while the merchant carried with him a tallow candle.

Hugh Tyler is finishing the marketing of his crop of sweet potatoes, and has been busy preparing the ground for future crops.

Ben Day is marketing his sweet potatoes in the city of Santa Barbara. Ben loads them into trucks or trailers and heads for Santa Barbara.

Bill Ticer holds the record for swift cutting of corn in Harperville. He cuts one row only at a time and keeps the horses moving and never stops from one end of the field to the other.

Henry Blaeholder with his sons have just returned from the Ventura Lake country. Henry and the boys only brought home one goose and some ducks. But Henry says that had they been properly equipped with a boat they could have filled their machines with the honkers.

Billy Northcross is living comfortably on a diet of quail. Billy says when they fly straight away from him they are as good as in his game bag.

General Arthur Schnitzer is irritating his orange groves and when asked about it, says he does not propose to have any frozen oranges this year and is keeping ahead of danger by seeing that his orchard is doused and wet. "Art" is also exhibiting some of the finest avocados seen anywhere.

Some stray dogs visited Harperville recently, and killed in some instances almost whole flocks of full grown hens and left them lying about the fields.

BUENA PARK GIRL WEDS PLACENTIAN

BUENA PARK, Nov. 23.—Miss Norma Middleton of the Park, and Mr. Fred Wells of Placentia, were quietly married at the Presbyterian parsonage on Saturday evening.

Miss Middleton has grown up in the Park and her many friends unite in wishing her a long and happy wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. Wells will make their home in Fullerton.

The Boy Scouts met as usual on Tuesday evening at the Community hall.

Dr. Schofield spent Wednesday in Santa Ana on county fair business.

We wish to correct the error in reporting the ball game between Cypress and Buena Park girls last team on Friday last. The result was a score in favor of Cypress instead of Buena Park.

Mrs. J. R. Schofield spent the day Wednesday visiting with friends in Orange.

WINTERSBURG-SMELTZER BRIEFS

About twenty-five members of the local Epworth League are planning on attending a banquet Saturday evening to be given at Fullerton by the members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church of that place.

The little son of Otis Kanawyer, is quite ill with pneumonia. Reuben Clemens who has been seriously ill in a Stockton hospital is much improved but was not able to leave the hospital last week as reported.

The A. Ruoff family spent Sunday in Los Angeles at the auto show.

Mr. and Mrs. Wash Dilley and family moved Sunday at the J. T. Dilley home.

Mrs. Fred Talbot and baby daughter of Modesto spent Tuesday night at the C. A. Brush home.

A number of residents of Santa Ana, Huntington Beach and Wintersburg held a rabbit chase on the Bolsa Chico club last Sunday. Ten dogs were used in the chase and fourteen rabbits were caught.

PAULARINO

PAULARINO, Nov. 22.—Stanley Kapala, a boiler tender at the Aliso dairy, is suffering a very severe burn on one arm and chest. The accident happened Friday evening when he was scalding a lobster for supper.

Leonard Flint and Johnny Johnson and the Misses Dolly and Esther Johnson were callers in Bolsa Tuesday evening at the Merritt home.

Mrs. J. T. Chilcote is recovering rapidly from a severe cold.

PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Nov. 22.—Rev. F. Douglas, who is a South American missionary, home on furlough for a short time, supplied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church on Sunday. His discourse both morning and evening was very interesting and instructive. He is staying in Huntington Park at present.

Douglas is a nephew of Mrs. Carrie Ford and well known by many people here as he was a former student at Fullerton Union High School.

A very interesting affair took place from Saturday evening till Sunday evening, when Mrs. W. J. Travers gave a house party at her beautiful new home on Kraemer avenue, to the members cabinet of the Union College Y. W. C. A.

Members of the cabinet who were present were Susan Walker, president; Doris Ellis, Ina Sargent, Frankie May Taylor, Hazel A. Scharr, Marie Twine, Florence Chambers, Gertrude Stephens, Dorothy Randall.

On Sunday the party was joined by some of the advisory committee, namely, Miss Geneva Johnson, Miss Florence Randall, Miss Clara C. Stephenson, Mrs. Elizabeth Friesz, Worsley, Miss Anita Shephardson, Miss Clara L. Schaaf.

Miss Alice Hoyt, National Student Secretary, was present and had charge of the cabinet conference.

Saturday evening a happy-time was enjoyed around the fire, chatting and telling stories and roasting marshmallows in the fire.

On Sunday, inspirational services were held and special conferences on the college Y. W. C. A. work.

The meeting was a happy and uplifting session for the members and all left thanking their gracious hostess for her kind and generous hospitality.

The cooked food sale held by the "Mothers' Club" on Saturday was a great success, the food being sold out as fast as it was brought in, the proceeds were over twenty-five dollars.

Mrs. James Huntley of Madison, had for guests on Saturday, old friends of girlhood days, Miss Laura Moeckel of Albany, New York, and Mrs. Sam McCulla, and son and daughter, Allan and Lillian of Pasadena.

HACIENDA ROAD WORK TO PROCEED

LA HABRA, Nov. 23.—The Chamber of Commerce meeting Monday night was a fizzle as far as incorporation was concerned. Ray Frantz, Luther Lindaur and C. E. Tower were appointed a committee to put a quietus on activities this time. A letter of recommendation was sent to Supervisor Schumacher, on the road matter and asking that the office of road foreman be declared vacant. The deeds to the road leading to the Hacienda Golf club have been passed and the matter of grading and filling will be done at once.

The new home of the Ford company with the James Howard, Inc., is completed. This was built by J. G. Launer at a cost of $8,000. It has a fine office room and the first sales floor in La Habra. Mr. Howard received two loads of cars last week and is still far behind with his deliveries.

VILLA PARK

VILLA PARK, Nov. 23.—Will Holditch and A. F. Mendhall of El Modena spent Sunday in Hemet with Harry and Don Helwig.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Thomson and son, Oswald, drove to Ontario on Sunday afternoon to visit with their aunt, who is quite ill.

Dr. Kengott, who has charge of the Congregational church in Southern California, preached here Sunday morning and his sermon was greatly enjoyed by all who heard him. Dr. and Mrs. Kengott were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. L. P. Hitchcock in their new home up the Santa Ana canyon.

Sunday quite a party of people from here attended a lecture given by Katherine Tingley of Point Loma, who is starting on a tour of the United States, at the Ebell clubhouse in Los Angeles. Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. George M. Lee, Mrs. Elma Lee, Mrs. A. A. Lee, Miss Elizabeth Lee and Mrs. William Bathgate.

The Man With Steel Fingers
Begin Here Today.

M. JONQUILLE, greatest of French detectives, faced the man with steel fingers—LORD VALLEYS, the powerful, half-Slav, half-English, nobleman who performed so brilliantly on the piano and who had recently succeeded to the wealth and title of his murdered uncle.

LORD WINTON.

Three lives had stood between Valleys and the title. But both of Lord Winton's sons were killed in the war and his granddaughter, the only heir, an American, was barred from the position by English law.

Lord Valleys tells M. Jonquille that his uncle was stabbed to death while Valleys was visiting him in the wine cellar at the time of the slaying but that circumstantial evidence caused the English authorities to charge him with murder.

Go On With the Story.
CHAPTER III.

Lord Valleys got up.

"It was to be expected, monsieur, that the English court under these circumstances would try me for the murder of Lord Winton. I had both the motive and the opportunity to accomplish it, and the circumstances were, to say the least, indicative."

"To my surprise, this manœuvre, Staley, came forward to establish the fact that the wine cellar had not been entered by a straw-rope, and this Metropolitan police officer appeared to say that he had seen the hansom leaving Lord Winton's door shortly before the fire was discovered. These facts indicated the truth of my statement."

"A further fact brought out by my legal advisers established with mathematical accuracy the fact that the blow that dealt Lord Winton the wound which had caused his death had been made with the small blade of a knife."

"The police found in my pocket a knife with a small blade, a blade of about the width of the wound. No evidence of blood was found on this knife, but the police professed to believe that it had been carefully washed. They thought traces of moisture remained on it. The case seemed convincing. I myself realized its gravity, and but for one fact a conviction might have followed."

"The autopsy showed that the wound which had caused the death of Lord Winton was seven inches deep. The handle of the knife with which it had been accomplished had not entered the wound. The wound was the small knife-blade at its exterior point."

Lord Valleys suddenly extended his hand, like one who puts down something that is finished.

"And I was therefore acquitted of the crime, monsieur, what the English law-courts say: 'A man may lie, but circumstances cannot.' I may have lied and Lord Winton's manservant and the Metropolitan police who saw the hansom drive away on that night; but the science of mathematics could not lie. A wound seven inches deep could not be made with a knife-blade four inches long. And the case ended."

He went over to a table, got a tortoise-shell box, released it with silver, opened it and presented it to Monsieur Jonquille.

"You will have a cigaret, monsieur?" he said.

Monsieur Jonquille took the cigaret, and Lord Valleys went back to the chair.

Then suddenly, as out of some inciting memory, the man's voice changed.

"You know, monsieur, when I mentioned the arrival of the visitor at Lord Winton's house, and the doubt of the English court of that fact, you said it was true. How do you know that it was true, if I may be permitted to inquire?"

The Prefect of Police balanced the cigaret a moment in his fingers before he replied.

"You know your statement about the hansom is true, monsieur, because I know who it was that came to Lord Winton on that night. And, monsieur, it is on behalf of this person that I have come to you today."

Lord Valleys was astonished, but he did not move, and his expression did not change.

"Upon what mission from this mysterious person could you come to me?"

"Upon the same mission," replied the Prefect of Police, "with which that person went on the fatal night to Lord Winton's house in Covent Garden. Lord Winton promised to do a certain thing for me as you call it, mysterious person. He died before it could be carried out, and I have now come to you to fulfill it. I trust, monsieur, that you will not deny me."

Monsieur Jonquille rose. He took a folded, legal paper out of his pockets and presented it to Lord Valleys.

"Monsieur," he said. "Lord Winton promised to execute this indenture. He died before his signature could be attached to it. I must ask you to execute it in his stead."

Suddenly, as once before on this morning, Lord Valleys, who had been seated the instant before, was now with no motion that seemed visible to the eye, standing on his feet. He came forward, took the paper which Monsieur Jonquille held in his hand, and going over to the table, unfolded it and stooped over it. He was some time in an inspection of the document, and in the meantime Monsieur Jonquille made a gesture, as one of flicking the ash of a cigaret through the open window into the Bois de Boulogne. The two young men in their animated discussion instantly crossed the street and entered the house.

Presently Lord Valleys rose from his stooped posture. He was shaken with astonishment, but there was of this astonishment no visible element, either in his appearance or in his voice.

"Monsieur," he said, "this is a deed drawn by an English solicitor, conveying all of Lord Winton's estate in England to his granddaughter, Barbara Westridge. Why, monsieur, should I convey these estates to this American girl? They have descended to me by inheritance. One does not alienate his lands without a cause."

"I will suggest a reason," replied Monsieur Jonquille. "This is in accordance with Lord Winton's promise. You stand now in Lord Winton's stead, and as I have said, you have received his benefits, and you should assume his obligations."

Lord Valleys smiled—that vague smile which seemed not to disturb the features of his face. He folded the deed together in his hand.

"You must permit me to decline, monsieur," he said.

He paused a moment, and the background of his face hardened.

"And you must overlook it, monsieur," he said, "if I feel that your whole suggestion with respect to this matter is not convincing. This girl could not have assassinated Lord Winton."

"She could not," replied Monsieur Jonquille. "Lord Winton was killed by some powerful assassin who seized him, compressed his

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

You Figure it Out

A PUZZLE A DAY

A man entered the grounds of a country fair, carrying a sum of money. He found the fairgrounds divided into four enclosures. See diagram. To enter enclosure A, he must pay one dollar admission. In A he spent one-half of what he had left. He paid one dollar to leave A and one dollar to enter B, where he spent one-half of what he had left. He spent one dollar to leave B and one dollar to enter C, where he spent one-half of what he still had. He paid one dollar to leave C and one dollar to enter D. There he spent one-half of what he still had, and paid a dollar to leave. He then found that he had nothing. How much did he start with?

Yesterday's answer: Who reineth in all pride and rage. To neither vice a prey. May hope to reach a ripe old age. And find therein his stay.

The words "reineith," "neither" and "therein" are composed of the same seven letters.

Dixon's Durable Dwellings

Not only LOOK good—but ARE good. "Ask the man who owns one," or look them over while the frame is going up. Make your own decisions. My constant effort is toward CONSISTENCY; to build a uniformly good, substantial home from foundation to roof; to incorporate the features that make for strength, permanency and beauty.

FACTORY; to equip it with every reasonable convenience; to sell it (preferably direct to home-buyer) at the lowest price consistent with cost of production.

WHY? Because I earnestly hope to still be building and selling homes in Santa Ana in 1942 and to be able then to LOOK MY BUYERS OF 1922 IN THE EYE undimmed.

Of the six unsold houses now under construction three are nearing completion, and I can show completed duplicates of them. LOOK THEM OVER IF INTERESTED SEE ME.

CONSIDER THE BOY

Around factories, offices, stores and any other places where people work together, a thing frequently noticed by visitors is the hard-boiled attitude of grown-ups toward the boys who are on the payroll.

The boss usually is salaried and toadied to as if he were a sacred cow. Miss Pansy Plush, the beautiful typist, gets a lot of fawning consideration. And even the male grown-ups treat each other with a mutual deference or respect, despite a considerable amount of facetious joshing.

But when it comes to the boy who works around the place—well, when he's called and commanded, it generally sounds as if he were a trained dog that had to be handled roughly on the theory that, give him an inch, he'll take a mile.

Rough treatment, lack of consideration, and a stern rebuke are difficult for a grown-up to "swallow"—despite the callousness accumulated by the sensibilities during years of toil and contact with the hostile pack that are trying to get the same dollar we're after ourselves.

The boy, fresh from home and just striking out for himself, has none of these callousnesses. His nature is sensitive, without insulation. And making him the target of the unnecessary sharp word or lack of consideration is about the lowest-down act that the so-called human being is guilty of.

When it comes to girls, a thousand times more so. Maybe you remember, years ago, the heartaches and spiritual injuries and disappointments that were yours when you first began making your own living. Probably they were things that occasionally brought a few tears to your eyes.

If we all kept this memory fresh before us, the boys who work today would get a better deal.

Considering the harsh and thoughtless treatment that most boys get on their first jobs, it's no wonder that so many of them grow up brutal, cynical and defiant toward their fellows.

You can tell how much of real manhood there is in a grown-up, by the way he treats the boys who work around him. And you can spot the bully, roughing the lads in a way he'd not have the courage to try on men his own size.

Another thing: These boys now working with us, and making mistakes due to inexperience (as we all did in our turn), are the future leaders of the world. For all some of us know, our only claim to greatness may be in having worked with some great man of the future, now a boy nervously fumbling at his first job.

A certain baggageman didn't realize this years ago when he permanently injured a train-boy's hearing by boxing him on the ears for cluttering up the baggage car with electrical apparatus. The train-boy was Thomas A. Edison.

IS YOURS A BILLBOARD CITY?

Those Santa Anas who have recently had their righteous ire stirred up through the erection of billboards in residential sections will agree 100 per cent with an editorial that appears in the Visalia Delta.

While Santa Ana has troubles enough with its billboard problem, there are other cities in the county that seem to have billboards less under control than they are here. At any rate, the city that asks itself the question, "Am I a Billboard City?" will be asking a question that is of consequence.

Here is what the Visalia Delta has to say on the subject:

Chester, Pa., is aroused because it finds itself called "The Billboard Town." Practically every vacant lot in the city is said to flaunt to public view either a finished billboard or one in process of construction.

Aside from the unsightliness of this particular method of advertising, the ordinary billboard which takes the form of a high board fence is a nuisance in various ways.

In the town in question, distressed citizens have discovered that there is nothing they can do about it until a city ordinance is passed. Many of the signs are made of galvanized iron so that they cannot be controlled by fire laws. There is nothing to prevent their erection but the wish of the property owners.

The Pennsylvania city is not alone in its problem. There are few American cities free from it, although public sentiment is turning against this commercializing of the landscape. Advertising in general is a good thing and has benefited the buying as well as the selling public. In its billboard form, however, it has begun to encroach upon civic beauty, civic morals and civic health. Not all billboards offend in all three ways, but all offend in one way or another, and in time will be prohibited by an outraged aesthetic sense.

Authorities interested in safety instruction urge the co-operation of the home in the prevention of traffic accidents to children. Schools may give safety instruction, but the home must do its share, particularly in training and watching the children below school age. It is possible to teach very small children to be careful, but eternal vigilance on the part of their elders is necessary too. It is a good deal of trouble for a busy mother to look often to see that little ones are safe in the yard or on the sidewalk, but when death removes the responsibility, how gladly it would be welcomed again!

BUSINESS MEN AND SCHOOLS

An educator speaking to a club of business men suggested that they appoint committees to visit the public schools regularly and make reports to the club.

"Much of the blame for children's wrong-doing now placed upon the schools would be placed upon the homes if the truth were known," said the speaker. "Your committee could see what is being done and where the blame for lack of learning is to be put. Certainly it is up to us men to accept greater responsibility in the education of our children."

As a result, the committees were appointed, and at least one business man's organization will have a working knowledge of what the schools are trying to accomplish, wherein they succeed and why they fail at some points.

Such co-operation is good from every point of view. It brings the fathers into live contact with the education of the children. It gives the children new ground for effort and interest, and it forms a basis for helpful consultation between school and business. This in turn will help the school authorities to prepare the child more efficiently for his entrance into the business world.

Santa Ana's board of education is submitting to the voters proposals for new schoolhouses to cost $400,000. The Register is convinced that the improvements proposed are advisable, that the bonds ought to be carried. The reason for our opinion in this matter is that we have investigated the situation. Those who have not had opportunity to inquire into school needs at this time should do so. Committees from various organizations can do a service to their organizations and to the people of the school districts concerned by investigating and reporting on the conditions as they find them.

LACK OF EDUCATION

The Kiwanis club of Santa Ana recently sent a letter to the graduates of the grade schools and the high school, urging them to "carry on" with their education. Now comes the Rotary club of Newark, N. J., with similar action. Their boys' work committee found that out of 1740 boys graduating from elementary schools, only 1327 entered high school. This committee sent a personal letter to each boy graduate of the grade schools, explaining why the club was anxious for him to complete his education. He was also invited to have an interview on the subject with some member of the club. Over 200 of these boys had interviews with the men of this club and many of them changed their plans and will take more education. Arrangements were made to find work for many who needed money.

If such a plan could be worked out all over the country, it would make a tremendous difference in American citizenship, for one of the great lacks of education has been the failure to hold young people in school long enough. Those that drop out prematurely are handicapped for life, and do not reach the full measure of usefulness to the community.

The American automobile association says the time has passed for gaudy billboard posters on the highways. Yep—people go by too fast to read them nowadays.

One man blows out the gas and kills himself. Another steps on it and kills somebody else.

The Allies are seeking a united front on Turkish issues. They'll be lucky if it doesn't prove to be a battle front.

"Compulsory" Schools

Fresno Republican

The public schools of the United States today have just two sorts of enemies—the one set of persons who are hostile, the other set who are too friendly. Those who are hostile to the public schools are those who have various purposes to accomplish with children, and who see that the public schools are indifferent to those purposes. So, on the principle of "catch them young," they would send children to special purpose schools.

The other set of persons are those who are so friendly with the public schools that they want to make of them special purpose schools. And they wish to compel every child to go to the public schools for these special purposes.

The public school system of the United States is by far too well established to be overthrown by either of these extreme purposes. But it can be hindered and irritated by them. The mind of portions of the public can be confused by attempts to "do things" with the public schools and by attempts to "do things" with children by compelling them attend the public schools.

What we should do with the public schools is to see that they are always so good, that they will always attract to their attendance, as well as to their support, the parents of a vast majority of the children of school age.

There should remain, for attendance at private schools, only the children of specially sensitive parents, of parents whose sense of proportion is over-weighted in one direction or another.

But for those parents there should be no oppressive regulation.

Any doctrine that the state has more interest in the children than have the parents should be regarded with a great deal of suspicion. Occasionally there may be points of contact where the state has more interest than the parents, but those occasions are very rare.

Children should go to the public schools because the parents want them to go there, rather than to private school.

The state of course has a right to require that the children attend "some" school. It has declared, often and forcibly enough, that no parent has a right to raise a family without reasonable education. The number of parents who disagree with this principle is so small as to be negligible as a political influence and to be punishable as a policy of government, and the state can lawfully set general standards of instruction.

But let the state beware of doing, as Oregon is attempting to do, compelling all children to attend any particular schools.

"Go east, young man." Note the quotation marks. The advice is not ours, but emanates from the state of New Hampshire's publicity agents, who are busy in the middle west, the recruiting ground for good California, with propaganda to attract settlers to New England. It is pointed out that farm land "down east" can be bought for $21 an acre, while the average price of agricultural land in the United States is $57 an acre.

Publicity pays. California has proved it. New Hampshire does well to imitate western advertising methods, and we wish the old Granite state all success. Land there is doubtless worth $21 an acre. So is California land worth five and 10 times that amount.

School or a Job?

Minneapolis Journal

The value of education has often been estimated in dollars and cents, but it remained for the Federal Children's bureau to show that usually two years are wasted, when a youth quits school at 14 and takes a job.

The findings are based on a study of 800 Boston youth who were closely observed for three years after they left school at 14 to pursue gainful occupations. Thirty-three per cent had a new position every three to eight months, and another 8 per cent still more frequently. Nearly all spent a large amount of time in idleness or waiting for new jobs. Their earnings at the minimum amounted to three dollars a week and at the maximum to sixteen.

The positions open to a youth of this age are neither rewarding nor promising. The job he gets is usually in a blind alley and leads nowhere. The amount earned does not compensate for two years lost at the most plastic and receptive period of life.

The earlier a lad leaves school for a job, the slower is likely to be his progress and the sooner he reaches his limit of promotion. Earning and learning may make a profitable combination in the life of a child, but earning without learning means impaired efficiency later on.

The Cogs Have Meshed

From the Stockton Record

The Wright act has been sustained. It becomes law, very definitely and decisively sustained by the express will of the majority of the voters, in California. At last, the state and federal machines, charged with the duty of law enforcement, have meshed cogs.

Let the glad news go forth to the nation that California is golden in her loyalty to the Constitution of the United States of America. There was a time when Eastern states doubted that. And there was perhaps just ground for the suspicion that California was in league with bootleggers. Although for a number of years a majority of the legislators elected in this state have been pronouncedly dry and the Eighteenth amendment was ratified by them, nevertheless the state until the year 1922 had always voted wet whenever a concrete issue, divorced of personality, was submitted. Two years ago, the Harris enforcement act, a measure similar to the Wright act, but with objections which the latter eliminated, was rejected on referendum. And for 10 years straight prohibition measures had been defeated. That was because the populous city of San Francisco—the erstwhile land of "mahogany vineyards"—dominated the state by the power of her votes.

It was thought for several days following Tuesday's election that San Francisco had again dominated in expressing the attitude of California on law enforcement and there was again great rejoicing among the bootleggers and corresponding heaviness of heart among those who were gravely concerned in the interests of the home and last.

Have you noticed that even the very elements seem to be rejoicing in California today over the news of the victory of the Wright act? During the first few days when it looked as if California had proven false in her pledge of loyalty to the Union and to the constitution, the skies wept. But today, when the situation cleared, the old sun again smiles. Clearly the best news of the election was reserved to the

The Lost Lawson

Visalia Delta

Thomas W. Lawson, recently "lost," could not remain lost for long. That after deciding to sell "Dreamworld," his beautiful country estate, in order to satisfy his creditors, he should be depressed and want to get away from people for a while, was reasonable enough. But that anyone of so buoyant a temperament as Tom Lawson's could stay in retirement was unlikely. Accordingly he was soon heard from again. Even at 65 the author of "Frenzied Finance" and "Friday the Thirteenth" will probably want to get into the game again.

"Who loveth danger shall perish in it." And Tom Lawson, after all his warnings to other people to keep out of the stock market, after all his explanations of the way in which the lambs are fleeced and the wolves tear at each others' throats, has still kept on with his stock play, returning to it after repeated upsets as an addict returns to his drug. Whether he will let the market alone even now, after this last and saddest loss, is questionable.

There is a drug in the gambling habit, more subtle than opium, but no less corroding in its final effect on the will and moral fibre. The lure of something-for-nothing is always beckoning onward, like Will-o'-the-Wisp. The mind comes to crave the excitement of the chase, the will becomes unable to resist. The only safety for young people is in the commonplace teaching that easy money is hardest paid for and that somewhere, somehow, "Work maun a gone to the getting, wherever money was got."

As to Lawson, by his warnings he saved many. By his example he undermined his own warnings. He has been a startling figure always, an extremely entertaining one to watch, annihilating our sympathy even while incurring our criticism. Anyhow, he gave us the Lawson rose, and many interesting moments. Perhaps it were well to let it go at that.

Indian Summer

The touch of Indian summer has started people back East to discussing the origin of the term and how it came to be used. In Doddridge's "Notes on the Settlement and Indian Wars of the Western Parts of Virginia and Pennsylvania from 1763 to 1783" the term is found and defined. To our forefathers the gloomy months of winter were more pleasant than the zephyrs and flowers of May. It, however, sometimes happened, after the apparent onset of winter, the weather became warm; the smoky time commenced and lasted for a considerable number of days. This was the Indian summer, because it afforded the Indians another opportunity to visit the settlements with their destructive warfare.

Adventures of The Twins

The Magic Glasses

By Olive Roberts Barton

The Green Wizard had a letter from Mr. Tingaling, the fairy land lord, asking for a pair of magical glasses.

So he set about making them at once. He boiled two powders in sirup and set it out to cool. Then, when it got hard, he cut out two round clear pieces with a biscuit cutter, and the rest was easy.

"There you are, my dears," he said to the Twins. "You may take these magical glasses to Tingaling and tell him that after this he will have no trouble at all."

He can see through a stone wall, or a mud bank or a tree trunk without trying and no one can fool him any more by pretending that he is not at home. Be as quick as you can, for Baskins, the apple-tree fairy, needs a pair of smoked glasses to keep the sun from hurting his eyes when he travels up to the sky. I want you to take them to him when you come back."

"Can't we take them now, if they are ready," said Nick quickly.

"We have to go right past the old apple-tree where Baskins lives and we can leave them."

"That's a fine idea!" replied the Green Wizard. "Yes, they are all ready and done up in paper and tied with a string. So you won't have to wait. Here they are."

Nancy took Tingaling's glasses which also were done up in paper and tied with a string, and put them into her apron pocket. Then Nick took Baskins' smoked glasses and put them into his pocket, and the two slid down the pine-tree and hurried away on their errand.
